BRITISH STRIKE AT BATTERED JAFFA QUARTER

Attack Comes After Jewish Irgun Zvai Captures City from Arabs.

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, April 29—The British struck with artillery and warplanes today at the battered Manshien quarter of Jaffa, which Irgun Zvai Leumi captured yesterday after four days fighting with the Arabs.

The promised British counter-attack developed as officials of Egypt and Iraq said large parts of their armies were moving on Palestine.

Sharp skirmishing occurred in the Jordan river valley opposite Trans-Jordan.

The Jews claimed capture of Beisan, 15 miles south of the Sea of Galilee. Beisan is a way station for Arabs filtering in from the east for the battle over partition.

The Arab Legion informed King Abdullah in Amman it had occupied Gesher, a Jewish collective settlement in the Jordan valley, and killed hundreds of Jews. The Legion said the fight started Tuesday night when Jews raided a legion sentry inside Trans-Jordan territory.

Egyptians Reported

Egyptian Communications Minister Dessouki Abaza Pasha said in Cairo large Egyptian army forces had been sent to the southern border of Palestine. Regent Abdul Ilah of Iraq said in Amman his country's army had started moving toward Palestine and would pass through Trans-Jordan.

The news of a cease fire for the old walled city of Jerusalem was received here with optimism. Neither the Jews nor the Arabs, however, had received instructions by early afternoon to cease fighting, as their spokesmen agreed before the United Nations.

Jewish reports to Jerusalem were the Jewish militia Haganah routed Arabs in a five-hour battle today and took a police station near Samakah which the Arabs had occupied. Samakah is at the southern tip of the Sea of Galilee.

Jewish Accusation

Down the river valley almost halfway to Beisan, the same reports continued, Haganah also occupied Jisr Al Majami police post and Teggart police fortress, evacuated by the British, near Gesher.

The Jewish press charged Arab Legionnaires coming from Trans-Jordan joined other armed Arabs in yesterday's attack on the Jewish collective settlement of Gesher but there was no official confirmation.

Gesher is just south of a Jordan river power station owned and operated by the Jews. One Jew was reported killed and nine wounded in the attack on the settlement.

Official sources said yesterday's casualties in Jaffa included 10 Jews killed and 26 Arabs killed and 94 wounded.

Fifteen Jews and two Arabs were reported slain in various Palestine clashes since last night. Nearly 3,500 persons, by unofficial count, have died by violence in the Holy Land in the last five months.

ESCAPING GAS KILLS COUPLE

Former Sycamore Residents Found Dead at Home in Tiffin.

Special to The Star

SYCAMORE, April 29—A double tragedy, deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leffler, aged couple who lived formerly in Sycamore, was discovered Wednesday night by relatives who visited their home in Tiffin. The deaths were attributed to escaping gas from a basement hot water heater. The Lefflers were found in the basement of their home by Mrs. Leffler's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Clingman of Upper Sandusky, who called Tiffin fire department and police when they could not gain entrance to the house. It was evident that the stricken couple had been preparing to do a washing, and it is believed the death occurred some time Monday. Dr. Benner, Seneca county coroner, investigated.

Planned Western Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Leffler were planning a trip to California in the near future with the Clingmans who had gone to the Tiffin home Wednesday night to discuss further arrangements. Mrs. Leffler had been bothered with heart ailment, and when the deaths were discovered, heart medicine was found clutched in Mr. Leffler's hand, leading authorities to believe that Mrs. Leffler must have felt ill before she and her husband were overcome. Gas fumes were present in the house.

Plans are being made for double funeral services to be held Saturday at 2 p. m. in Moore's funeral home here. Rev. C. F. Brouse will officiate. Burial for Mrs. Leffler will be in Pleasant View cemetery, Sycamore, and for Mr. Leffler in Greenwood cemetery at Zanesville. The Leffler's moved to Tiffin five years ago from Sycamore.

Mrs. Rose Jane Leffler was born Nov. 15, 1876, in Huron county, a daughter of John H. and Sarah Jane Cook Nye. She was married to Charles Mesnard who died in 1935. Her marriage to Mr. Leffler was Sept. 2, 1943.

Retired Farmer

Mr. Leffler was born April 11, 1878, in Muskingum county, a son of George and Harriet Baughman Leffler. He was first married to Nellie Smeltzer who died in 1942. He was a retired farmer, a member of a Methodist church in Tiffin and he was a Scottish rite Mason.

Survivors include children of Mrs. Leffler who are step-children of her husband, Virgil Mesnard of Tampa, Fla., Mrs. Clingman, Mrs. Golda Pahl of Carey, and Ilo Mesnard of Fostoria, four grandchildren, three great grandchildren, brothers and sisters of Mrs. Leffler, Mrs. Elvira Becker, Mrs. Lusina Spitler and Mrs. Naomi Fergesen, all of California, Mrs. Elida Vance of Nevada, Mrs. Rhoda Fike of Bucyrus, Arthur Nye of Galion, Mrs. Ora B. Dawson of Canada, and Adrian Nye of Millersburg, and a sister of Mr. Leffler, Mrs. Sarah Powell of Zanesville.

AUTO STOLEN FROM DOWNTOWN GARAGE

Pass Up New Cars To Take Older Model.

Car thieves, striking for the second time this month, boldly entered the rear of the Midtown Chevrolet garage at 203 South Main street last night and stole a car belonging to the Sinclair Motor Co.

The theft was discovered by Sergeant Patrolman Ballantine at 4:40 a. m. when he noticed a rear window in the rear of the garage and investigated.

While Ballantine was investigating Patrolman Merlin Mitton of the city force noticed Ballantine's flashlight flashing in the building and joined him in investigating.

Entry to the garage was gained by breaking the rear window. After entering the rear of the garage the thieves opened the rear door of the garage and drove out in a 1942 Chevrolet sedan owned by the Sinclair Refining Co. State, county and neighboring police departments and sheriffs have been alerted to be on the lookout for the car which was bearing license plates numbered 2090 when stolen.

Police are at a loss to explain why the thieves selected this particular car when several new and used cars were on the premises.

Boy's Troubles End As Reporter Takes Him To See Circus

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 29—A newspaper reporter took a little boy to the circus yesterday. Under the circumstances, he thought it was the least he could do.

Several weeks ago John O'Reilly of the New York Herald Tribune, wrote a story about the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus arriving at Madison Square Garden.

Above his story was a picture of the elephants parading Inconspicuous in front of the line of elephants was a small boy.

Later this letter came to the newspaper:

"Dear Mr. O'Reilly:

"You took a picture of the elephants marching down the street. I paraded in front of them from E. 84th St. and Second avenue all the way down to the Garden.

"For punishment my mommy won't let me go to the circus. I went too far from home. You did not have to put the picture in the paper and get me in trouble.

"Yours truly, Dion Rummage."

O'Reilly, though not directly responsible for the picture, called on nine-year-old Dion's parents and persuaded them to alter the punishment.

Yesterday O'Reilly took Dion to the circus.

Circus President John Ringling North personally praised Dion's handling of the elephant parade.

"After you got 'em here," he told the boy, "I counted them and there wasn't one missing."

Simple, Short Rites For Knudsen Today

DETROIT, April 29 — The auto industry and the country bids farewell to William S. Knudsen today in a funeral service as simple and unassuming as Big Bill's life.

The brief Lutheran rites were scheduled for 2 p. m. at the Epiphany Lutheran church which the famed production genius was responsible for building.

No lengthy eulogy for the former General Motors Corp. president who coordinated the nation's wartime armament program, has a part in the time-honored rites of Knudsen's native Denmark. Instead, the service consists of short prayers, Scripture reading and a few hymns.

Knudsen died early Tuesday of a cerebral hemorrhage at the age of 69.

Reds Get Cold Shoulder As Europe Plans May Day Fetes

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 29—The Communists will have to celebrate May day on their own this year in most of western Europe's Democratic capitals.

Socialists and moderate labor groups are giving the Communists the cold shoulder as never before in planning for the traditional labor celebration Saturday.

May day was established as an international labor holiday in 1890 at a Socialist congress in Paris. In most countries it has become Labor day. The Russians have made it a national holiday, and this year they plan one of their biggest celebrations in Moscow.

Huge pictures of Lenin, Stalin and other Bolshevik leaders have been placed on buildings, and the city is going all-out in decorations. The Russians are combining celebrations, since May 1 is the third anniversary of the entrance of Russian troops into Berlin.

In western Europe the Communists generally find themselves snubbed.

Dual celebrations in some cases for the first time, were called by Communists and non-Communists in London, Oslo, Paris, Berlin, Amsterdam, Brussels and Copenhagen.

Even in Finland, which recently concluded a mutual assistance pact with Russia, Social Democrats and Communists called for separate rallies in Helsinki and some other communities.

Few Disorders Expected

Police throughout Europe, with the possible exception of Italy and Trieste, took a calm view of the coming celebrations. In prior years May day has often led to sharp disorders.

The allied military government in the free territory of Trieste closed 10 blockposts and restricted travel in six more, as reports were spread that Communists might try to filter across the border and stage May day demonstrations. Pro-Italian and Pro-Slav groups were ordered to celebrate in their own sectors only.

The British Labor party arranged to furnish a May day speaker for every district held by a labor member of parliament. The Labor party of London called its own demonstration, with Herbert Morrison, leader of the house of commons, as main speaker.

London Communists directed their members to take part in the council celebration.

In Paris the traditional Communist parade into the central Palace De La Concorde will be confined by order of the interior minister to the eastern end of the city.

East-west rivalry was pointed up briskly in Berlin plans.

There the Communist-controlled Berlin federation of trade unions called a Saturday morning rally at the downtown Lustgarden in the Russian sector. At the same time, the independent opposition within the federation will meet in Republic square, near the burned-out Reichstag building in the British sector.

Forces in Rivalry

The powerful Socialist Democratic party, largest in Berlin, supports the anti-Communist meeting. The Soviet-sponsored Socialist unity party backs the Communists.

In Brussels, where Socialists and Communists used to parade with trade union members, the rival forces decided to go their separate ways.

Amsterdam police banned four May day slogans which Dutch Communists had planned to display.

The Dutch Socialist party called separate mass meetings throughout the Netherlands.

Vienna will feature parades and speeches as Austria's political parties observe the holiday.

ACCEPTS UMT, DRAFT MERGER

Compromise Plan Wins Truman's OK After Congress Rejects His.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 29—President Truman said today he accepted proposals to combine a temporary draft and a universal training program because it was all that he could get out of congress.

The President told a news conference the idea of blending the draft and universal training was an acceptable compromise.

Then he added it was because it was all he could get. It was, he said, a step in the right direction.

Mr. Truman asked congress for a temporary revival of the draft to expand the armed forces now. He also asked a universal training program under which all physically fit 18-year-olds would be trained as a reserve.

But when congress was cool to that, military men came up last Tuesday with a substitute plan which virtually junked the universal training idea.

The substitute, outlined to the senate armed services committee, proposed:

A draft of 161,000 youths in the 18-19½ age bracket for a year of training with the regular services. These boys could not be sent overseas.

A draft of 190,000 men in the 19½-25 age bracket for two years service in the armed forces.

The house armed services committee has indicated opposition to this proposal. Chairman Andrews (R-NY) predicted any effort to combine the draft and UMT would wind up in defeat of both.

FLUNKS LIE TEST IN REUTHER QUIZ

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 29—An unidentified man who police said rented a red car the night a gunman attacked President Walter P. Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers was questioned today.

Reuther's assailant, who fired through a window of his home April 20, escaped in a red automobile of a recent model. Since then police have found no trace of the vehicle.

Detective Chick Jack Harvill said the man's lie detector test was "not satisfactory." In it, the officer said, he admitted driving a red car the night Reuther was shot.

He is reported to have returned the car to the rental agency the following day and taken another car out, Harvill added. The suspect's story, he said, "doesn't sound so good."

Held as a police witness was another man, also unnamed, reported to have accompanied the suspect when he rented the car.

High Command Sees 2 Million Men Top U. S. Defense Force

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 29—The high command, working with foreign policy framers, thinks two million men are enough for defense—that more might be viewed abroad as a move towadd aggressive war.

The joint chiefs of staff, it was learned today, used such a diplomatic yardstick to help it measure the size of the recommended peacetime military establishment.

The joint chief's organization is composed of the military heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force, plus Adm. William D. Leahy, the chief of staff to the President. They constitute an advisory group to Secretary of Defense Forrestal.

Shape Overall Policy

The overall military-diplomatic policy is shaped by the national security council which includes President Truman, Secretary of State Marshall, Forrestal and the civilian secretaries of the armed forces. The military planning thus is designed to be geared to the diplomatic thinking by the council.

Here is what the joint chiefs want for a peacetime defensive force (present manpower figures in parentheses):

An Army of 837,000 men (540,000) in the regular establishment, 650,000 (260,000) in the National Guard. The regular Army would be organized into 12 divisions, plus 50 battalions of anti-aircraft defense.

A Navy of 550,000 regulars (350,000), 220,000 (166,000) organized reserves. They could man about 390 combatant ships including about 16 carriers and 32 air groups.

70-Group Air Force

An air force of 502,000 men (325,000). The ultimate objective would be a 70-group force at full strength or a little over full strength.

The ultimate 70-group regular air force would be backed by 60 groups of National Guard planes.

A Marine Corps of 108,000 men (81,500), with 40,000 more in the organized reserve.

This would be a peacetime force.

Should the United States be attacked, the current thinking of the high command is understood to be along the line of a "mobilization day" force of these dimensions:

1. A ground army of 25 to 30 divisions, both regular and National Guard, fully equipped and trained, ready to move overseas immediately.

2. A Navy of 900 combatant ships.

3. An air force of 110 to 120 groups, not including naval aviation.

CANCER CAMPAIGN OVER TOP BY $2,300

$9,800 Reported with Some Gifts Still To Come.

Workers in the annual campaign of the Marion County Chapter of the American Cancer society topped their quota of $7,500 by $2,300, it was announced today by Mrs. Frederick T. Merchant, chairman of the house-to-house canvass. As of today the figures show a total of $9,800, and there still are a few reports to be completed, Mrs. Merchant reports.

The drive, which opened the first of the month, was conducted in keeping with the national campaign to raise $16,012,000 to carry on the program of service, education and research. Fifty per cent of the amount received in the local drive remains in Marion county, 10 per cent is forwarded to the state organization, 15 per cent to the national and 25 per cent is used for research work.

As a wind-up activity of the drive and to express their appreciation of the work done by the campaign workers, Mrs. J. M. Streitz, commander of the Marion County chapter and city chairman for the campaign, Mrs. Merchant, Mrs. W. A. Dennis, co-chairman in the house-to-house canvass and Mrs. A. B. Augenstein, county chairman, are asking all the workers to be their guests at an informal gathering tonight in the First Evangelical and Reformed church recreation room. The affair will be social and at this time workers who have not done so, may make their reports.

Oleo Wins in House Battle To Drop Tax

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 29—With oleomargarine better than a two to one victor over butter in the house, the battle of the bread spreads moved into the senate today.

Opinions differed sharply on what will happen there.

The house yesterday voted 260 to 106 to repeal the 62-year-old federal taxes on oleo. It rejected all dairy bloc efforts to compromise. These would have dropped the taxes but required the packing of oleo in triangular or circular sticks.

MEDIATORS IN CHICAGO WITH NEW PROPOSAL

Truman Declares He Believes Walkout May 11 Can Be Avoided.

By The United Press

CHICAGO, April 29—The government began a "do or die" attempt to head off a nationwide railroad strike today, and President Truman predicted a settlement would be reached before the deadline May 11.

The national mediation board met with union representatives in an attempt to avert a walkout by 150,000 engineers, firemen and switchmen.

At Washington, Mr. Truman told a news conference he believed the board would succeed. Then, as an afterthought, he said he at least hoped so.

The strike would cut the lifelines of commerce and industry and cripple the nation.

The board, headed by Frank P. Douglas met with union officials in a conference room adjoining union strike headquarters in a downtown hotel.

"We'll stay here until this thing is settled or until we are convinced it cannot be settled," Douglass said as he walked into the conference room and closed the door behind him.

He said he would keep the White House informed of developments, "but not with any thought that it take any action, unless we find we can't settle the dispute here."

"The nation can't stand a national railroad strike," Douglass said, "and its not going to."

Douglass was accompanied by Francis A. O'Neill, a member of the mediation board.

The government had exhausted every legal method of avoiding the strike.

Only One Hope

The only hope lay in mediation.

Douglass asked representatives of both sides to meet with him in a do-or-die attempt to work out a settlement of the workers' demand for a 30 per cent wage increase.

Two of the unions—the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America—had already ordered their members to stop work on May 11.

The other union, the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, had not set an official strike date. But J. P. Shields assistant grand engineer of the union, said the engineers "might set the strike date today or tomorrow."

The three unions represent 150,000 workers, about 80,000 of whom are engineers.

As the negotiators sat down with the government officials, industrial leaders warned that the nation would be crippled severely by the threatened strike.

Sees Food Affected

Mrs. R. M. Kiefer, manager of the National Association of Retail Grocers, said it would affect food supplies within two weeks.

She said supplies of fresh food in non-producing areas would give out "rather quickly." But she said there was no occasion for hoarding because supplies would be adequate for "some time" after "the first pinch is felt."

The nation got its first taste of a countrywide rail strike in 26 years when 250,000 workers struck for 48 hours in 1946. Before the President used his wartime powers to halt the strike, the entire nation was plunged into a crisis.

A spokesman for the engineers at the union headquarters in Cleveland pointed out that the three brotherhoods operate separately even though they agreed to the joint negotiations. Each union, he said, has different procedures for calling strikes.

An engineers' representative at Cleveland set off several hours of confusion yesterday by announcing that the union would strike with the other two brotherhoods May 11. The statement was overruled later by Shields at Chicago.

The railroads and the unions have negotiated for six months. The dispute has been under federal mediation and was investigated by a presidential fact-finding board provided under the national railways act.

TREE TRIMMER DIES IN FALL AT ASHLEY

Frank Snyder of Delaware Suffers Fatal Injuries.

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, April 29 — Frank Snyder, 21, of Delaware, a former Ashley resident, died at 11:15 a. m. today after a fall from a tree near the entrance of the Ashley fairgrounds.

Snyder, a tree trimmer, was working with a crew near the fairgrounds and had climbed only a few feet up a tree he was about to trim when he fell backwards from the tree to the ground, landing with his back across a fence post which was lying on the ground near the base of the tree.

Dr. H. W. Davis of Ashley was summoned and pronounced Snyder dead upon his arrival.

Coroner Wray Davies of Delaware county was summoned and ordered Snyder's body removed to University Hospital in Columbus for a post mortem examination to determine the cause of death.

Snyder is survived by his wife of a few months, the former Jennie Wortz of Ashley, and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Snyder of near Delaware.

Dies of Malnutrition, Leaves $250,000 Estate

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 29—When Auverne S. Mann died April 3, doctors blamed malnutrition caused by years of frugal living.

The 73-year-old retired lawyer's will was offered for probate yesterday. It showed he left an estate of $250,000.

Mann willed approximately $200,000 for a Community Center building in Wayne township, Ashtabula county, where he was born. He left his son, Russell Mann of Perry, O., $5,000 in bonds, and several grandchildren $100 each.

Public To Have Part in Selecting Name For New City Junior High School Building

What name shall be given the new million dollar junior high school scheduled to go up next year on North State street?

The city board of education, now that plans for the school have been given the green light, is considering what to call the building. Obviously, the name Central Junior High cannot logically be used even though the school is to serve as a replacement for the West Center street school. The new school will no longer be "Central." To call it North State Street Junior High would hardly be doing justice to the new building.

What then, shall the new school be called?

The board of education has asked the pupils of Silver Street, Oak Street, Mark Street and North Main Street elementary schools and those of Central Junior High to help with the selection of a name.

Many Proposals

More than 60 names have been advanced by the school children interested in having a hand in naming the school which they may soon attend. Student council at Central Junior High narrowed down the suggested list to approximately 12 names. The faculty assisted with a second evaluation of the list which left five popular choices to be considered.

Marion residents are now being given opportunity to express their opinion as to the name to be given the new school. The five names under consideration at the present time will be carried in The Star in a public opinion poll. Space is left blank for an additional name if the reader desires to suggest a name other than the five already selected.

In this way it is felt that Marion residents interested in helping select a name for the new junior high school will be given a chance to express an opinion. The board of education will make the final selection. It was indicated that public opinion and that of the students would not be ignored should one of the names prove to be the clear choice of a majority of the students and public.

Favorite Names

Names selected by the students for public consideration are: Eber Baker, Horace Mann, Jefferson, Lincoln and McKinley. Leading the student poll were Eber Baker and McKinley, the former

100 ABSENTEE BALLOTS CAST

This Is Last Day To Vote in Advance of May 4 Primary.

Approximately 100 persons will have cast absentee votes indicating their choice of candidates for nomination for state and county office and as delegates to the national conventions of the two major parties election board officials reported today.

Today is the last day available for those who will not be in their home precinct Tuesday to cast their vote in the May primary. Election board office closes at 6:30 p. m.

Going into the final day, records at the board of elections office show 89 persons including nine servicemen and 11 disabled persons have voted.

Eligible to vote at the polls Tuesday are 14,851 Marion residents according to present registration figures. With approximately 6,000 estimated eligible voters in the county villages and rural sections, primary election voting could reach the 20,000 figure providing all eligible to vote exercise their option.

Speculation on the total vote Tuesday by individuals following political developments in the county ranges from predictions of a light vote for a major election year to a heavy total vote here in Marion county.

Only two county contests loom in the Democratic primary, one for the office of sheriff and the other for county commissioners office, while three offices will be contested by county Republicans including the offices of sheriff, prosecutor and commissioner.

Of chief interest however is the contest at the GOP primary for the nomination as member of Congress from the Eighth congressional district.

Only one special issue will be up for vote in the county and is in the Morral school district where voters will be asked to approve a two mill operating levy over a two year period. The district already has a three mill levy in effect running for two years yet.

The 25 presiding judges in the county election districts will obtain their supplies from the board of elections office Saturday afternoon. The 30 presiding judges in the city will obtain their supplies from the board of elections office Saturday afternoon. The 30 presiding judges in the city will obtain their materials Monday. Polls are open from 6:30 a. m. until 6:30 p. m. election day.

State tax collections in the United States varied from a high of $84.05 per capita in Washington to a low of $29.54 in Nebraska in 1946.

Rail Strike on Horizon

THE railroad unions have set May 11 as the date for their strike, following passage of their wage dispute through all the steps provided for under the national railway labor act. Now only a period of days and the efforts of the national mediation board stand between the nation and a strike that could cripple it from coast to coast.

The disastrous effects of a rail strike are quickly felt. Movement of perishables, coal and passengers ceases. Plants dependent on incoming shipments close, as do those unable to move finished products. The 1946 strike was paralyzing the nation so rapidly that the President was on the radio within 48 hours with a denunciation of the union leaders and a proposal to draft the strikers into the army.

Under our closely integrated economy, a rail strike cannot continue any length of time. If the railroaders go out, the effects would be so serious in 6 or 7 days that it would be necessary to halt the strike at any cost. That fact should provide the needed incentive for the remaining mediation possibilities to be explored to their fullest before the trains stop rolling.

On the ECA Team

SOME observers have been wondering just what will be the relationship between Paul G. Hoffman, administrator of the economic cooperation authority (the Marshall plan organization's official name) and W. Averell Harriman, ECA's roving embassador.

They point out that Mr. Hoffman is a free enterpriser whose record indicates he would set more store on Europe's recovery through individual effort. Mr. Harriman, on the other hand, supported the President's 10-point program calling for rationing, price ceilings and other controls. A supporter of peacetime controls is more likely to be sympathetic to governments that proceed on the theory that rehabilitation is better imposed than induced.

Public law 472 sets forth the roving ambassador's duties as follows: He "shall be the representative of the administrator and shall also be the chief representative of the U. S. government to any organization of participating countries . . . to further the joint program of European recovery, and shall discharge in Europe such additional responsibilities as may be assigned to him with the approval of the president . . . He shall receive his instructions from the administrator and such instructions shall be prepared and transmitted to him in accordance with a procedure agreed to between the administrator and the secretary of state . . . He shall consult with the chief of all (special) missions who shall give him such cooperation as he may require for the performance of his duties . . ."

A study of this passage shows that the closest team work will be necessary between administrator and ambassador; otherwise ECA will be afflicted with the same trouble as our defense team, which has a coach and three co-captains who can't agree on what plays will be called.

Motorists, Like Flies

A QUARTER of an hour dodging danger on a crowded highway as the 1948 motoring season opens is enough to convince any moderately skeptical operator that driving for fun has become a questionable pursuit of happiness.

This will be the summer of the greatest traffic congestion the United States ever has struggled with—and thoughtful citizens will be sobered by its implications.

The United States has outgrown all but the most modern of its newest highways. Auto traffic is strangling to death in built-up areas. In large cities there isn't enough room for essential transportation services—buses, trucks and taxicabs—to say nothing of private automobiles.

The drain on the available supply of gasoline has become so tremendous that some form of rationing will be mandatory in many sections before the end of the summer. Those studying the problem of fuel security in connection with military preparedness are giving special attention to ways and means of curbing the use of pleasure cars.

It adds up to a fact Americans have been slow to recognize: that the automobile, long regarded as a symbol of America's high and rising standard, has become too powerful a factor in its whole economic well-being to be allowed to run wild. Motorists swarming like flies are vastly more than a sign of prosperity and happiness. They have become a first-rate public problem.

Did You Know

It is estimated that the cost of eliminating all the 227,000 railroad grade crossings in the United States would be about as much as the total investment in American railroads with the exception of rolling stock.

Russia's Ability To Produce Big Question for U. S.

NOTHING better could have happened to this country at this time than the debate between Secretary of Defense James Forrestal and Secretary for Air W. Stuart Symington over the nature of our rearmament and its cost. Of course, the layman might ask the question, while listening to the debate, now it happened that this country, which gathered together and equipped the largest Army, Navy and Air Force in all the world, let it go down as the debaters say it has gone? This is an astonishing performance, particularly as it is clear from the Byrnes, Hull and Stimson memoirs that it was evident at Yalta that the Russians were planning to succeed to the Nazi conquests in Europe. Certainly, by Potsdam there could be no doubt about their intentions.

SOKOLSKY

Why then were the Army, Navy and Air Force practically disbanded; why were stores of equipment abandoned, destroyed or sold at a few cents on the dollar?

Forrestal insists upon a balanced defense within the margins of the economic and political needs of the country. He insists that while the Air Force is important and while a war can be lost for want of an adequate one, an Army and Navy are still needed. For instance, the possession by Soviet Russia of a large submarine fleet, consisting of the latest type German submarines against which we have not yet perfected a defence, is serious. Without a Navy, the lanes of traffic across the seas could be closed. The Army still is needed for occupation. The atomic bomb will not win a war, although it may destroy cities. Even domestically, an Army is needed to put down fifth column forces which already exist in the United States, in what dimensions nobody knows positively.

Makes Another Point

All this is admitted, but the point Secretary Symington makes is that Russia is outproducing us 12 to 1 in airplanes. Frankly, that gave me the shivers when I first heard it and even the second time. Then I began to wonder how much of the Russian fleet was of their manufacture and how much we gave them by lend-lease. We gave them radar as a gift. What else did we give them as a gift?

Then I asked myself another question: for nearly 300 years, since Peter the Great tried to introduce manufactures in Russia, they produced nearly nothing. During all of Stalin's five-year plans, they produced very little compared with the United States, Great Britain, Germany and Japan. The Germans almost had them until the United States intervened in the war, and then we gave them, through lend-lease, $11,000,000,000 of supplies. Nevertheless, we reached the Berlin area before they did, although we had a longer way to go. The fact that our troops were called back to the Elbe to wait until the Russians arrived in Berlin, in no measure vitiates the fact that the United States by land and air activity knocked the German out in his capital.

Does Russia Change

Suddenly, Russia becomes a primary manufacturing country, capable of outproducing the United States in the manufacture of airplanes by 12 to 1. I would like to know more about that. Certainly, Germany could not and did not outproduce this country, and Germany was more advanced in production than any country except the United States. Even if nothing had been destroyed in Germany during the war; even if the entire German plant remained intact; even if none of it was in western Germany but all in the Russian areas of Germany, their plant was never equal to ours. Why then did we permit the Russians to beat us in an armament race, if Russia has beaten us?

I don't know, but it seems that James Forrestal is viewing the whole question of rearmament with greater balance, with a more rounded picture of the United States. It is easier to follow him and to accept his judgment, but we need figures on the actual Russian capacity to produce. In those figures lie our peril and our safety—and as Secretary of Defense Forrestal seems to be reasonable in his outlook, why not take the American people into his confidence?

Churchill's Retrospect

By RAYMOND MOLEY

IN Winston Churchill's memoirs, currently published, there is an account of a conversation the great war prime minister had with President Roosevelt over the naming of the Second World War. Churchill suggested that it be called "the unnecessary war." He then goes on to tell how it could have been avoided.

With most of his conclusions we all agree. The British governments of MacDonald, Baldwin and Chamberlain were almost criminally negligent. And Churchill's speeches of warning put him on sound ground.

MOLEY

French politics also opened the gates of weakness to the Germans. Beyond this, Churchill's catalogue of reasons why the war was unnecessary are hardly so sound.

He suggests that there should have been an earlier recognition of the fallacy and futility of reparations. This is hindsight, because when Churchill was chancellor of the exchequer in the 20's he energetically sought to get what he could of German reparations. It was later, when the cloud of the great depression spread over Europe, that the realities were enforced on Britain, as well as on the United States. Then, the Hoover moratorium relieved the pressure, temporarily and to a degree.

Churchill says, further, that the French should have received the Rhine frontier that they so eagerly claimed. No river, even as broad as the Rhine, could have saved France. Such a frontier might even have increased the deadly sense of security induced by the Maginot line. The morale and the political disunity of the French were the real weaknesses that no alteration of borders could have cured. Moreover, to have given the French the west bank of the Rhine would have placed several million Germans inside France, which would certainly have been a further irritant to Germany and a still greater source of disunity for France.

Churchill now complains about the dismemberment of the Austrian empire, saying that it Balkanized most of eastern Europe. But this was an inevitable breakup. It was going on even before the First World War. Minorities were everywhere demanding independence.

False Analogy

Finally, Mr. Churchill makes the familiar complaint about the refusal of the United States government to allow more relief from the debts owed by Europe to us. The British claim in 1932 and 1933 was that, since they could not collect from their debtors, they could not pay their big creditor. A false analogy existed in this argument. The reparations were a fine; the debt to the United States was a real debt. The reparations had been arbitrarily fixed. The debts owed to us were for goods and money actually given. They were, moreover, not war debts. In the various reductions during the 20's, all the money advanced to our Allies in the war had been cancelled. The 10 or 12 billions which were owed us in 1933 were loaned after the armistice.

Moreover, Roosevelt in 1933 made no arbitrary demands. Countries such as Italy, Belgium and Poland, which claimed "inability to pay," were permitted to pass their payments. France simply defaulted without explanation. Britain was permitted to make a token payment of about 7 per cent of the amount due in June, 1933. After that, nothing was collected from any country except Finland.

Uncle Sam has many sins on his record, but he was no Uncle Shylock in the period described by Churchill.

Just a Minute

Mother Truman's Cookbook?

The federal government is printing three million copies of a cookbook.

And one thought all it knew was the recipe for confusion.

There is little to be said about a leadership which, confronted with sky-rocketing meat prices, responds with directions for potatoburgers.

As far as I can determine, the government's previous interest in culinary matters has been limited "Too Many Cooks . . ."

The inclusion of Potatoes O'Brien was a masterful play for the Irish vote. But it won't help Truman in already indignant Dixie that, in the whole of the volume, there's not a single item "Southern Style."

Incidentally, the administration might well consider issuing a post-election supplement devoted —for the special benefit of the party faithful—to the preparation of crow.

Dance Band for Mutes

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—One of the loudest bands in Berlin plays for dancers who can't hear a note. The Berlin Deaf Mute bi-monthly balls pack a big hall to capacity. For one recent dance 1,000 turned out.

The dancing was preceded by some pantomime skits performed by deaf mute actors. Before the band swung into a number it hoisted a placard designating whether it was waltz, polka or fox trot.

The dancers, some of them children under 10, displayed amazing sense of rhythm. They obtain their rhythmic sensations through vibrations.

Taxicabs

There are 70,000 taxicabs in the 834 American cities of more than 10,000 population, reports the International City Managers Association. This figures out to 1.17 cabs per 1,000 population. The supply is most plentiful in cities of 10,000 to 25,000, where the average is 1.42 per 1,000, compared to .67 per 1,000 in cities of 250,000 to 500,000.

New York, with 11,814 registered cabs, tops the list. Next is Chicago with 3,275, Philadelphia with 1,800, Boston with 1,525, Detroit with 1,302, Baltimore with 1,150 and Los Angeles with 1,061.

Lost in the Maze

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, April 29, 1938.

A cut which would represent a saving of $250,000,000 annually, was asked in a resolution adopted by the Association of American Railroads under the railway labor act. The association prepared to serve notice of a 15 per cent wage reduction effective the following July 1.

Mrs. Joe Conroy was reelected chairman of the State Highway Social club of Marion county at the second annual meeting of the group in Democratic headquarters.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clemens of West Fairground street, Mr. and Mrs Robert Wheeler of Chicago avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Green of Irey avenue.

John F. Smith was elected activities chairman of the Fifth district of the Ohio Association of Insurance Men, at a meeting held in the Marion Club at Hotel Harding.

Mrs. Ray Reidenbaugh and Mrs. J. F. Hurd were guests when Mrs. William Kiehl entertained the Dii Penates club at the Center tearoom.

Charter members of Bethlehem Grange presented a program at a meeting of the organization. The group included Mr. and Mrs. George Almendinger, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Issler, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fogle, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fogle, Mr. and Mrs. Urban Zachman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mehaffey, Mrs. Frank Issler, Mrs. John Mehaffey, Charles Kelber, Chris Hecker and Edward Bender.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, April 29, 1928.

Mrs. William Hull, 63, of near Marion, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edna Babcock on Oak street.

Buckeye Aerie of Eagles initiated a class of 108 candidates, the second largest in the history of the local organization, the largest previous to that having numbered 122. The principal speaker of the day was Charles C. Guenther of Pittsburgh, past grand president.

Warren Meister of Hornell, N. Y., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Meister of West Walnut street.

M. L. Paddock and son, Marion, of Los Angeles, Calif., former residents of Marion, arrived for a visit with relatives here and in Columbus.

Newly-elected officers were installed by the First Reformed and Emmanuel Baptist churches with the pastors, Rev. Herbert F. Weckmueller in charge of the Reformed church services and Rev. Earl L. Holliday directing the Emmanuel Baptist services.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a large barn and granary on the farm of Mrs. Frank McBeth, eight miles southeast of Upper Sandusky.

Long or Short Emergency?

By Walter Lippmann

IN A VALIANT effort to make intelligible what the Army and Navy Register has called a "welter of confused recommendations," Hanson W. Baldwin mentioned uncertainty as to whether the "emergency, which Mr. Truman described in his St. Patrick's Day message, is "short term or long term." This is, I think, the chief explanation of the Forrestal-Symington, the Air Force-U. M. T.-draft controversy and confusion.

The Pentagon, having received no clear directive from the President as to whether to prepare for a near or a distant military showdown, finds itself trying to guess what the Russians intend to do. But since the Pentagon cannot be sure that it is guessing right, it is but natural that it should be divided and confused.

LIPPMANN

So Secretary Symington and his constituents in the house of representatives want to prepare for war in 1952, the theoretical date when they have decided to think the Russians will have atomic bombs. The orthodox sponsors of U.M.T. are also trying to get ready for a theoretical war several years hence.

Secretary Forrestal is trying to "balance" the conflicting pressures (so far as one can judge) on the theory that we ought to prepare a little for all the different possibilities.

But if we ask ourselves why we have been discussing extra military measure since the middle of March, the answer must surely be that in the judgment of the administration there has been a change in the international situation since the events in Czechoslovakia, Finland, Berlin and Vienna. This was also the judgment of the western powers of Europe, otherwise they would not so hastily have signed the Brussels alliance.

Emergency Is Now

What does this all add up to? It adds up to the judgment that the emergency is now and near—that this is the critical period, that if there is to be a showdown it will not be when Symington has the perfect jet-propelled air force of 1952, and when the U. M. T. enthusiasts have a great trained reserve some years hence, and when Great Britain and France have recovered under the Marshall plan and are rearmed in the distant future.

If all the governments of western Europe and our own have not been having an unnecessary fit of nerves, this is in truth the critical period. What will count is the military power which can be mobilized at once, and deployed at once, so that there may be a force in being. Our paramount need, then, is not "preparedness" for a theoretical M-day but a mobilization of what we have and can quickly produce.

That this is the critical period might have been debatable before the Truman message and the Brussels pact. It is not debatable now. For while it could have been argued in March, though wrongly it seems to me, that the Czechoslovakian and Finnish actions were merely the cold war and not the opening of a military phase, our own actions—whatever the original Russian intentions—have changed the situation.

Will Russians Wait

Our decision to rearm and to support a military alliance in Europe would be in the highest degree reckless and irresponsible if we did not now act on the assumption that the Russians will do something drastic, before a long program of rearmament can be completed.

It is simply inconceivable that they will remain passive, waging only a cold war while Symington gets ready to exterminate them with atomic bombs in 1952. Therefore, the adoption of his program under present circumstances would on any prudent calculation provoke countermeasures for which, having invested everything in the Symington program and Symington strategy, we should be unprepared.

It is not safe to threaten Russia with destruction in 1952, leaving Europe undefended in the meantime. The only safe and wise thing to do is to mobilize at once a defensive and a deterrent force for the support of Europe.

If we decide to do that, the welter of confused recommendations from the Pentagon may be replaced by a coherent military program. With such a program the State Department will be in a position to clarify its own policies. It will be able to give the western union the only kind of guaranty that means anything—a guaranty that we are determined to defend it against invasion.

FARMERS NEED SUMMER HELP

OSES Office Takes Hand in Helping Solve Labor Problem Here.

Additional farm laborers will be required this year to help tend, and harvest Marion county's expanding agricultural crop yield. This was reported today by Fred B. Scherff, director of the local office of the Ohio State Employment Service.

A survey of county farming prospects in January gave promise that existing supplies of farm labor here would be adequate to meet the seasons needs. However, the long hard winter season followed by heavy spring rains, will make the planting of many crops much later this year. The bumper wheat crop which these conditions have started will require more men for harvesting.

In a normal year 189 professional farm "hired hands" are needed to augment the labor of farm families. Thus far in April 30 calls for farm hands have been received by Mr. Scherff Of this number 17 calls have been answered by men registered with the employment office. As the heavy farming season approaches there has been a persistant and steady increase in the number of farm jobs available.

To assist in getting a farm job for the farm worker and to supply the busy farmer with the help he needs Mr. Scherff has assigned Burley R. Rutter, farm representative of the local OSES staff, to full time duty to call on farmers and assist them in solving their labor problems.

Situations available for farm workers here are attractive in regards to pay, travel expenses, housing, and working conditions. The applicant who can qualify for one of these farm jobs will find that the farm labor picture has altered radically from what it was several years ago.

The majority of farm jobs now open are located within ten miles of Marion. All of the farms now seeking workers are mechanized. The pay is good and in most cases either on the farm housing or transportation allowance to and from the job is provided. Many of the jobs have set hours of starting and quitting work.

Social Affairs

A DINNER last evening at Hotel Harding marked the seventh anniversary of the founding of Zeta Theta chapter, Alpha Iota sorority, and also climaxed initiation ceremonies conducted for chapter pledges. The table was lighted with white tapers and places were marked with miniature music racks. Drum-shaped pincushions were the place favors. Welcomed as new members were Misses Jean Alexander, Juanita Miller and Alice Robertson.

The theme for the evening was the Seventh Annual Review of Zeta Theta Chapter and the program opened with the singing of "The Lord's Prayer," by Miss Sharon Burnside. Miss Josephine Manzo presided as mistress of ceremonies and devotions were by Miss Helen Zulauf. The new members were welcomed by Miss Martha Fabian, president and the response was by Miss Miller. Highlights of Zeta Theta chapter were given by Mrs Mary K. Hollinger and the first part of the program closed with a monologue by Miss Florence McKinney.

The formal initiation was a candlelight ceremony with Miss Fabian presiding as the installing officer, assisted by Miss Mary Himmeger, vice president, Miss Grace Crizer, secretary, Miss Josephine Manzo, historian, Miss Maxine Dune, treasurer, Miss Helen Zulauf, chaplain and marshal and Miss Grace Cyders, pledge captain.

Arrangements were in charge of the social committee composed of Miss Manzo, chairman, Miss Irene Hall, Miss Florence McKinney, Miss Betty Moore, Miss Mary Shirk and Miss Helen Zulauf Pledge week activities closed Tuesday evening with ceremonies conducted in the women's clubrooms ta the YMCA.

Linn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Linn of Chillicothe, Ill. The father of the bridegroom is formerly of Marion The wedding will take place Saturday, May 8, at 10 o'clock in the morning in St. Bernard's church in Peoria.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Weston of 427 Cherry street are announcing the marriage of their niece, Miss Mary Mitchell, to Dwight Roszman, son of Mrs. Oza Roszman of near Morral, and the late J. H. Roszman, which took place Saturday, April 21, at 10.30 a. m. in the First Evangelical United Brethren church. A bouquet of lilacs, lighted candles and ferns formed the background for the single ring ceremony which was read by Rev. Don H. Hochstettler.

For her wedding the bride chose a two-piece dress of white linen with a lace yoke. Her accessories were navy blue and her corsage was red roses. The bride's attendant was Miss Florence Orahood of Marion who wore a light blue dress with which she combined black accessories. Arthur Schurch of Richwood served as best man. When the couple left on a short wedding trip, Mrs. Roszman was wearing a blue wool tweed suit to which was pinned her wedding corsage.

Before her marriage the bride was employer by the City Loan, and the bridegroom is engaged in farming.

Upon their return they will make their home on a farm near Morral

The bride was graduated from Harding High school and the bridegroom from the Meeker High school.

DEWEY SURGE FAILS TO CATCH STASSEN

By International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, April 29 — Harold E. Stassen fought off a last-minute surge of votes for New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to emerge today the certain winner in Tuesday's Pennsylvania Republican preferential primary.

Dewey gathered strength in late returns to whittle down the former Minnesota governor's lead to some 4,500 votes.

With less than 600 of the commonwealth's precincts unreported, the test of presidential strength in Pennsylvania showed Stassen with 74,289 votes to 69,426 for Dewey.

U. S. Sen. Edward Martin, favorite-son candidate, received 41,318 votes. Gen. Douglas MacArthur showed surprising strength in edging out Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) Ohio, 17,181 to 15,072.

Other tentative results were: Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R) Mich., 7,944; Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, 4,350; Henry A. Wallace, 1,262; Pennsylvania Gov. James H. Duff., 691, and California Gov. Earl Warren, 670.

ENGINEERS MEET TONIGHT

BUCYRUS, April 29—Approximately 30 engineers from North Central chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers including Crawford, Ashland, Richland and Wayne counties are expected in Bucyrus tonight for a dinner meeting. There will be a dramatization of scientific facts concerning light to be presented by the General Electric Co. Wives of members will be guests.

Tomorrow Deadline To File BUC Reports

A reminder was issued today to all district employers by R. S. Chamberlin, payroll auditor of the state bureau of unemployment compensation, that tomorrow, April 30, is the final date for the filing of the first quarterly payroll report by employers.

To assist local employers who wish to file before the deadline, thus avoiding the penalty for late filing set by law, Mr. Chamberlin will be in the OSES office at 163 East Center street tomorrow until noon and will accept reports until that time which he will take to Columbus before the deadline for filing.

GIVES RULING

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 29—A dead man's name may not be removed from the May 4 primary ballot, Attorney General Hugh S. Jenkins ruled yesterday. Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel requested the opinion.

TO DIRECT AT OWU. John J. Morrissey, composer-arranger and professor of music for Tulane university, New Orleans, will lead the Intercollegiate Band Festival concert in Gray chapel at Ohio Wesleyan university next Saturday and Sunday, and will present his new and unpublished composition "Bayou Beguine" for the first time. Mr. Morrissey, in addition to being head of the department of music at Tulane, is director of the university's band, and symphony orchestra.

CARPENTERS LOWER HOURLY LABOR RATE

By The Associated Press

FOSTORIA, O., April 29—In an announced effort to ease the housing shortage, AFL carpenters here have cut their hourly rates on new frame houses from $2.50 to $1.

Business Agent E. L. Dixon of the carpenters union said today "we are trying to give a start to new housing the community needs so much and we hope other trade unions will follow."

The old rates will remain in effect for repair work and labor on brick homes of industrial construction.

"There has been considerable agitation for veterans housing here, but the county commissioners apparently haven't the necessary funds and the metropolitan housing authority has very little," Dixon explained.

Employes of Marion Store At Columbus Celebration

All employes of the Marion store of Cussins and Fearn, Inc., were in attendance at an advance celebration of the company's approaching fifty-fifth anniversary held last Sunday in the Seneca Hotel in Columbus. The anniversary date is May 1 and will be observed locally Richard F. Meister, local store manager, reports.

The eight employes of the Marion store joined the staffs of the other 33 stores of the company and its officials at a banquet which began at 12:15.

The banquet was followed by addresses by company president, B. A. Durrant, and vice president in charge of sales, H. N. Pence, both of Columbus.

Commissioners To View Proposed Ditch Today

The county commissioners today were to view the Sweeney Goose Pond single county ditch in Salt Rock township, prior to a hearing next Thursday morning on the petition filed by Ward W. Walton, of Upper Sandusky to clean out the ditch.

In view of the fact that Commissioner William Risch is one of the 49 property owners affected by the petition, the court appointed O. C. McCurdy to sit on the board for construction of the ditch petition.

Petition is for constructing, reconstruction, straightening and widening of the main ditch and also for repair of the north branch of tile ditch. There were 19 supporting signatures on the petition.

Reserve Officers At Meeting in Kenton

Officers from the local unit instructor's office attended a meeting of the tenth Ohio Composite group Wednesday night in Kenton. They were Capt. John B. Weaver, unit instructor for the Kenton area and 1st Sgt. Charles L. Boulward.

The film, "Operation Polar Bear," was a feature of the evening. The film shows the operations and use of equipment in the Arctic zones. First Lt. Robert E. Heckathorn served as instructor for the evening. Present were Major Carl Russell, Capt. Charles Dible, Capt. Charles Barton, Lt. Col. C. W. Kirkland, 1st Lt. William D. Suhr, First Lt. Clayton G. Kritzler, Capt. James A. Griffith, Major Harold E. Spencer, First Lt. Shelburn E. Hill, First Lt. Bernard Pfeiffer, Capt. Kent Brydor, Lt. Col. Justin McElroy, Second Lt. Robert Bischoff and First Lt. Kenneth E. Osborn.

MAIL AUXILIARY MEETS

Election of officers of the auxiliary to the Marion branch of the Railway Mail association was held at a business session conducted at the time of a recent joint meeting with the men's group at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Luvisi of 209 Hane avenue. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Shipley were co-host and hostess. Mrs. A. J. Matson was reelected president; Mrs. Clarence Willey was chosen vice president; Mrs. Melvin C. Rouse, secretary and treasurer, reelected; Mrs. Watson Morecraft, press agent; and Mrs. Homer Eber, program chairman. Mrs. William Swayze of New York City, a daughter of Mr. Shipley, talked on her trip to China. Association and auxiliary members joined for a potluck dinner. The next meeting will be held at the Matson home on the Claridon pike.

How to Fall in Love in one easy lesson

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

TAKE a clear day—a Dynaflow* Buick—and a mind open to new experiences.

Turn the key in the lock—press down the gas treadle—and set this mighty Fireball straight-eight purring. Now:

Flick the selector lever till the pointer indicates "D"—that's for driving. Feed a little gas—and see what happens.

Smoothly, you slip away from the curb. Silkily you build up momentum. Effortlessly you cruise at whatever pace your treadle toe selects.

Look! you say. A stop light! What do I do?

Nothing special. Let up on the gas. Apply the foot brake as you need it.

That all? Won't the engine stall? Don't I shift?

That's all. Your engine won't stall. You don't shift. Just sit there till the coast is clear. Then step on it. Step hard and you're off like a rabbit. Step lightly, and you ease smoothly away.

What's happening? you want to know. What's doing the shifting? Some mechanical hand under the floor boards?

Not in this car, sir. Oil does it all—spinning oil. Oil whirling to give you starting surge—power build-up—efficient cruising—engine braking effect on hills.

Oil that does everything the usual low, second and high gears do—without any gearshifting on your part—and without the slightest break in your stride except when you want it.

Say no more! I'm sold! Where do I sign up?

There's only one place. Only Buick has Dynaflow Drive, and no other American car has anything like it. With or without a car to trade, better see your Buick dealer first minute you can.

What's Different About DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left below), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

BUICK alone has all these features

★ DYNAFLOW DRIVE (Optional on Roadmaster Series) ★ TAPER-THRU STYLING (Super and Roadmaster) ★ VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE ★ FLEX-FIT OIL RINGS ★ HI-POISED FIREBALL POWER ★ ROAD-RITE BALANCE ★ RIGID TORQUE-TUBE ★ QUADRUPLEX COIL SPRINGING ★ SOUND-SORBER TOP LINING (Super and Roadmaster) ★ DUOMATIC SPARK ADVANCE ★ SAFETY-RIDE RIMS ★ TEN SMART MODELS ★ BODY BY FISHER

CASINO HOLDUP ALARMS JUDGE

Fears More Serious Crimes if Gambling Houses Continue To Operate.

By The Associated Press

IRONTON, O., April 29—Common Pleas Judge James H. Collier fears something "far more serious" than a $100,000 robbery may occur at nearby Chesapeake if, he said, establishments are permitted to operate in violation of law.

Referring to the early Monday holdup of a casino west of the Club Continental, the judge told a newsman last night:

"If I am correctly informed, it would have been quite possible for a half dozen persons to have been killed.

"I have said from the bench on numerous occasions that I deplore the unwillingness of enforcement officers to enforce the law relative to gambling. To me such violations are more serious than a robbery."

Judge Collier was asked, specifically what he thought should be done in connection with the $100,000 robbery by 10 bandits of customers and management representatives at the casino. He replied:

"I question what would be the net result of arrests and trials of persons in a crime where the witnesses are fearful or unwilling to testify. Our law says a man must be proven guilty beyond a shadow of doubt.

"The most shameful part of the Chesapeake situation is the fact that places like that are allowed to operate.

"Yet I, as a judge, must be impartial."

At Columbus, Governor Thomas J. Herbert said in a telephone interview he had not heard about the robbery and that under Ohio statutes he may not step in as governor to assist in law enforcement unless a request is made by local authorities.

Prosecutor Milton Andrews of Lawrence county said he would "welcome reports" by witnesses of the holdup. He said his investigators had "no official confirmation" of the robbery.

CARDINGTON MEETING

A meeting of a group of parents of the Cardington community was held Monday night at the Cardington school to organize a Cub pack. The meeting was in charge of Herman Powelson, field commissioner of Cubbing, and David Robbins, assistant field commissioner of Cubbing. Another meeting will be held May 5 at 7 p. m. at the Cardington Methodist church at which time all parents of the community interested in having their sons become Cub Scouts are urged to be present.

COACH BEATING CASE GOES TO GRAND JURY

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., April 29—The Licking county grand jury meeting next fall will hear the case against Donald L. Dimick, 45, charged with assaulting the high school coach in nearby Granville.

Dimick asked for a jury trial when arraigned last night before Granville Mayor Byron Francis on an assault and battery charge. Francis said that in view of the request, he would bind Dimick to the grand jury. Dimick was released on his own recognizance.

Mrs. Donna Petersen, wife of Coach Larry Petersen, filed the charge against Dimick following an altercation between Dimick and her husband on the Petersen porch April 23.

Dimick claimed Petersen disciplined his son after some classroom "horseplay."

TAFT IS SILENT ON PENNSYLVANIA VOTE

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., April 29—Sen. Robert A. Taft moved here today, in his Ohio primary campaign but still had no comment on results of Tuesday's "write-in" balloting in Pennsylvania.

Taft was fifth in the field of presidential candidates, led by Harold E. Stassen, who seeks 23 of Ohio's 53 GOP presidential delegates next Tuesday.

Yesterday Taft singled out the Republican welfare program under his leadership as new proof he is "more liberal" than the former Minnesota governor.

"The program which I have worked out is based on definite principles, and gives Federal aid consistent with Republican principles of liberty and equality," he said in a Canton address.

Federal aid to education, federal housing and health were features of the welfare program which he claimed credit for by reason of his leadership in the senate.

He declared Stassen has no educational program as yet but has stated in campaign speeches that his researchers are working on one which he hopes to announce sometime.

Taft also appeared yesterday before the student body at Wooster college and followed with speeches at New Philadelphia, Massillon and Alliance.

TWO FINED IN COURT

Norma Ruth Dardenger, 28, of 532 West Center street and Robert Franklin Schweinfurth, 26, of 308 Uncapher avenue were fined $25 and costs each yesterday in municipal court on charges of fighting on West Center street Tuesday night filed by police.

But, permitted to or not, Venerable clearly is walking on ordinary pavement because only one of the women had hair long enough to spread before him.

KILLED BY DUMP BODY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 29—F. D. Jackson, 55, was killed yesterday by the body of his own dump truck. Deputy Paul Stormont said Jackson, after dumping some rubbish, apparently tried to remove a board from under the truck bed and the bed fell on his head.

Police Proposal Rejected by Arabs

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, April 29—The Arabs today rejected a French proposal for an international volunteer police force for Jerusalem.

The Jews agreed to the proposal for a 1,000-man elite force to safeguard Jerusalem's holy places under a proposed truce, but the Arab rejection dashed hopes for its establishment.

Jamal Husseini, vice chairman of the Arab higher committee for Palestine, told the United Nations trusteeship council the Arabs "object to foreign troops being sent to our country." He said the term troops also meant police.

TRUMAN ASKS EARLY OK ON LILIENTHAL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 29 — President Truman today called for early senate confirmation of his reappointments of Chairman David E. Lilienthal and other members of the atomic energy commission.

Mr. Truman said suggestions to limit their new terms to one or two years "would restore the pall of uncertainty which surrounded the development of this country's atomic energy program."

Lilienthal and his associates were confirmed to the commission last spring.

The President said Lilienthal and his four fellow members were appointed "without any reference to their political affiliations." He added in a formal statement:

"Since we all recognize the need for a vigorous non-partisan development of our atomic energy program, I strongly urge that these nominations be considered on the schedule originally set by congress."

The terms of Lilienthal and other commission members will expire Aug. 1. Lilienthal was nominated for a new five-year term.

PILOT DIVES PLANE TO BLOW OUT FIRE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 29 — A quick-thinking pilot, flying an American airlines transport plane carrying 48 passengers, dived his ship 3,000 feet yesterday to blow out an engine fire.

The ship, a DC-6 piloted by Capt. E. S. Swanson, was over Toledo at 21,000 feet altitude at the time. It continued to the airport here on the remaining three engines.

Passengers, watching as flames shot out of the engine and trailed back across the wing, remained in their seats.

All available fire apparatus at the airport followed the plane as it landed and poured 200 pounds of carbon dioxide fire extinguisher on the engine and damaged right wing.

Capt. Swanson said a broken propeller blade in the engine's super-charger caused the fire when it blew off its hub and ripped through the housing. This allowed oil to come in contact with the hot exhaust collector ring.

Two smiling stewardesses, Marion L. Nesgard and Eileen M. Sexton, and Capt. Swanson and Co-Pilot M. T. Petugrew, were praised by passengers.

"I was quite alarmed," said Mrs. Ruth Allard of New York, "but I looked at the stewardess and there was a smile on her face."

M. J. Civetta, a Mt. Vernon, N. Y., attorney, said "the crew * * * immediately dispelled any fear among the passengers."

After the dive, the stewardesses offered all hands an extra cup of coffee, then resumed serving dinner.

The transport had left Chicago on a non-stop flight to New York.

Holds Dinner, Ladies' Night; Robert T. Mason Speaker.

Robert T. Mason, president of Marion Chamber of Commerce and owner of radio station WMRN featured speaker at the annual banquet and ladies' night of Voiture No. 48 of 40 et 8 last night in the formal dining room of Hotel Marion.

Radio—Its Past, Present, and Future," was the subject of Mr. Mason's address. He traced radio from its beginnings to its present advanced stage of technical development. Technical, achievements in the simplifying of radio equipment make possible an even greater future for this form of communication, said Mr. Mason. Citing the recent successful conclusion of long term experimentation in combining radio and television units Mr. Mason predicted the day of transmission of electric power by air, without wires, is not unforseeable at the present time.

The regulation of radio transmission by the Federal Communications commission, the assignment of wave lengths, regulation of commercial programs in relation to non-commercial programs, the advance of frequency modulation broadcasting, and the potential of radio in the event of a national emergency in the atomic age were explained in detail by Mr. Mason.

Introductions Made

The program opened with the introduction of the toastmaster Past Chef de Gare L. H. Larson by Chef de Gare William E. Marks.

Prior to the main address Toastmaster Larson presented Thomas Campbell Sr., Sixth district American Legion commander from Mt. Gilead D. J. McDonald, Sixth district vice commander; County Commander Craig Rogers, Chef-inot Romine Wingett of Cardington, and John H. Moore, commander of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162 American Legion.

Officers of Voiture 48 were introduced by the toastmaster including Chef he Gare Marks, Chef de Train Al Dripps, Conductor C. W. Chapman, Comis Voyaguer C. B. Morris, Sous Commis Voyaguer Richard Burklew, Aumounier Dr. H. A. Hoopes of LaRue, and Past Chef de Gare John Ruth.

Fifty members of the voiture, their wives, and guests who attended the banquet, were entertained by Mrs. Goldie Swope and her accordion. During the group singing which followed the banquet Dr. Hoopes, in response to many requests, sang the "Too Fat Polka" accompanied by Mrs. Swope.

TOM BRENEMAN

BRENEMAN MEMORIAL REPLACES BROADCAST

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, April 29—Memorials to Tom Breneman, who died yesterday, replaced the joviality of his "Breakfast in Hollywood" radio show today.

A spokesman for the American Broadcasting Company said there would be tributes today, tomorrow and Saturday while the network decides whether the Breneman show will be continued.

It is possible that Jack McElroy, who often substituted for Breneman, may carry on the program which had an estimated 10,000,000 daily listeners to its gags, interviews, fun with ladies' zany hats and orchids to the oldest woman present each day.

Breneman, 47, fell dead of heart disease at his Encino home early yesterday morning.

Funeral arrangements were expected to be made today.

Programs To Observe Music Week in Marion

Programs of two local music groups Sunday will open National Music week in Marion, held annually during the first week of May. In the afternoon, the Juvenile Lecture-Recital club will present its program at Hotel Harding ballroom at 2 o'clock. This will be open to the public with no admission charge, Mrs. Ralph Mills, counselor, announced.

The annual sacred musicale sponsored by the Marion Civic chorus will be held at 8 o'clock at First Presbyterian church, Mrs. E. N. Hale will be in charge. Arrangements have been made for various groups of musicians to present programs of special numbers for Music week at meetings of various Marion organizations throughout the week. Mrs. Lewis Wills is chairman for National Music week here.

TO HONOR VETS OF '98

MARYSVILLE, April 29—Eleventh district, Veterans of Foreign Wars, during its conference here will honor members who took part in the Spanish-American war 50 years ago. The local post of veterans will be host Sunday. District commander is Earl W. Fund, Columbus.

WIN POSTER HONORS

ASHLEY—The following Ashley students won honors in the state poster contest held during Farmers' week at Ohio State university: Jane Knauber, seventh in grades 10-11-12 (tenth grade); Jerry Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Welch, first in grades 1-6 (sixth grade); Dale Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baker, fourth in grades 7-8-9 (eighth grade).

VOTE WORK RETURN TO STOCK EXCHANGE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 29—United Financial Employes (AFL) today voted to return to work at the New York Stock Exchange and four brokerage houses and end their month-long strike.

The union acted at a special meeting after Mayor William O'Dwyer requested them to resume work at wage increases offered by the exchange pending city investigation of the wage issue.

There was no immediate announcement of when the strikers would return to their jobs.

The strike against the Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange started March 29. Later it was extended to four brokerage houses.

The Curb Exchange dispute was settled about two weeks ago.

AN OPEN LETTER

CARROLL'S Marion, Ohio

172 W. Center St.

DEAR CUSTOMERS:

I wish to thank and congratulate the hundreds of Misses and Mrs. who have joined our "Sterling Silver Club."

We, at Carroll's, are proud to be the first in Marion to offer you this popular "Sterling Silver Club Plan." We have been told by many of our customers that they had never expected to own fine solid silver, but are now the happy possessors of a sterling silver pattern which is not only backed by the "famous Carroll guarantee" but also by members of the Sterling Silver Guild of America.

Yes, that is what 85 years' experience of our personnel in buying and selling sterling silver mean to you in choosing solid silver. There is much more than just choosing a pattern when you buy sterling silver that you will live with the rest of your life.

In order that you can more clearly understand the "Carroll Sterling Silver Club Plan" and not be misinformed, listed below are answers to some of the questions that have arisen concerning our new "Sterling Silver Club Plan."

I might suggest that you consider the beauty, fine craftsmanship, outstanding quality, lower prices, plus years of prestige in the manufacturing of sterling silver that is found in the "Famous Towle Sterling."

Sincerely, Harold D. Carroll Owner

Questions and Answers About CARROLL'S Popular "STERLING SILVER CLUB PLAN"

Q—Do I have to buy all six pieces of silver that are in a complete place setting (knife, fork, salad fork, cream soup, individual butter spreader, tea spoon)?

A—No—you can buy any pieces or any number of pieces. We have club members that have bought only a teaspoon to start their set and others that have bought complete sets of twelve.

Q—Can I pay more than 75c down and 75c per week?

A—Yes—you can pay as much more as you wish. We have club members that are paying 75c down and 75c per week and we also have members paying much more. You are the judge—make your payments to suit your purse.

Q—How long can I buy my sterling silver on "Carroll's Sterling Silver Club"?

A—You can buy your solid silver on "Carroll's Sterling Club" plan until you have purchased all the sterling silver you will ever want. There is no given amount deadline.

Q—Is there any amount of sterling silver that I must buy if I join the club?

A—No—you can buy only one teaspoon to start your set if you so desire.

Q—Must I make my payments each week.

A—No—you can make your payments once each month if it is more convenient for you, or use our extended payment plan. Take a year to pay if you wish.

Q—What does it cost me extra to belong to "Carroll's Sterling Silver Club"?

A—It does not cost one penny more the "Sterling Silver Club Plan Way."

Q—How much more expensive is sterling silver today than in the past?

A—"Towle Sterling Silver" is now only pennies more than in 1944 at Carroll's.

Q—How often must I buy my silver to keep in the club?

A—You only buy your silver when you want to add to your set.

Q—Do I have to leave my silver in the store until it is paid?

A—No—we have a complete stock and you take your silver with you at the time of your purchase and joining "Carroll's Sterling Silver Club."

This Sterling Silver Club Plan Is Exclusive at Carroll's Only!

PUPILS HEAR DR. COTTRELL

Dean Delivers Keynote Address at Vocational Conference.

...pply at 8:45 a. m. yes... the annual vocational guid... conference for 2,300 Marion ...chool pupils got under way ... Palace theater.

Dr. Donald P. Cottrell, dean of ...lege of education at Ohio ...niversity and international ... and educational author... ...ivered the keynote address, ... for Youth in 1948." ...student must ask five ques... ...himself before he proposes to prepare for an occupation. Upon the answers to these questions depends his future happiness in that vocation," said Dr. Cottrell.

The five questions posed for the students by Dr. Cottrell were: (1) Can we maintain peace for a while? Dr. Cottrell's belief was that war is not imminent in the immediate future. (2) What is the possibility of a world organization for the establishment of both economic and political stability of nations? Dr. Cottrell stated his belief that such an organization is possible. (3) What provisions for extened education for youth beyond the high school are in prospect? The situation shows much promise for the continued extension of educational benefits beyond high school Dr. Cottrell believes. "After all," he said, "ours is the only nation in the world, either past or present, to offer free education to everyone."

Fourth Question

The fourth question the student must ask is what are the prospects for an increase in the production of goods and services. On this subject also Dr. Cottrell was optimistic, citing the great demand now present to a degree far beyond present facilities to provide the wanted goods and services.

The fifth and final question posed for the student was whether we can learn to get along with people who differ with us and hold views different from the ones we hold. Dr. Cottress believes we can, through study and a sincere searching for common grounds of understanding.

Prior to Dr. Cottrell's keynote address the meeting was opened by the singing of the National Anthem led by L. G. Jones, school music director, accompanied by Fred Lacey.

Pledge To Flag

The pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by President James Hill, of Harding High school student council. Invocation was given by Rev. Henry Schaeffer, pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran church and president of the Marion County Ministerial Association.

Divide Into Groups

Following the keynote address the pupils left the theater for Harding and Central High schools where 52 occupational counselors representing a broad variety of occupational specialties were waiting to give the students first hand information concerning the occupations in which they were interested, information based on experiences of the counselors in that specific occupation.

In order to give the students a chance to secure information on as many occupations as possible in the time allowed the conference was divided into two sessions the first starting at 9:45 a. m. and ending at 10:40 a. m. The second session ran from 10:50 to 11:45 a. m.

At 12 noon all the counselors attended a luncheon at the First Presbyterian church.

Sponsors of the vocational guidance conference were the Lions, Kiwanis, Altrusa, Y's Men's, Exchange, Rotary and Business and Professional Womens' clubs, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, CIO, and Marion Central Labor Union, AFL.

U. S. Hopes It's Safe To Admit Labor Unions To Atomic Plants

(LAST OF A SERIES)

By MAX HALL

Associated Press Labor Reporter

WASHINGTON, April 29—Is it safe to have labor unions in atomic plants?

Can secrecy and security be maintained if unions are allowed to represent the workers?

Government officials hope so. They say the CIO and AFL unions at Oak Ridge, Tenn., have caused no breach of security.

But the government is worried about some other atomic centers. It hasn't yet permitted the official recognition of unions in atomic plants other than at Oak Ridge. It is moving with extreme caution. For there are ticklish problems ahead.

For example, two unions whose officers have not filed non-Communist oaths under the Taft-Hartley law are active in the atomic industry. These unions are:

1. The United Public Workers (CIO), which is campaigning for members at the Argonne national laboratory, Chicago, operated by the University of Chicago.

2. The United Electrical Workers (CIO), which represents the production and maintenance employes at the Peek Street atomic power laboratory, Schenectady, N. Y., operated by General Electric.

How It Happened

Here is how this union happens to represent those employes:

The atomic laboratory just "grew up" inside General Electric's regular plant at Schenectady. The employes were already members of the Electrical Workers, which have long held a contract with General Electric. The same contract covered the laboratory workers.

In addition, organizers for the CIO Electrical Workers have been seen in recent months at Hanford, Wash., where General Electric has taken over atomic operations.

But the most active group at Hanford so far is the Pasco-Kennewick Metal Trades Council (AFL).

Peculiar Position

The 50,000 workers in the atomic industry are in a peculiar position. They work in plants owned by the government, where the need for security is vital. But they are employes of private companies.

Private employes are guaranteed by law the right to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing. But so far—except for the 20,400 workers at Oak Ridge—atomic employes are largely denied this legal right.

A big reason is that the U. S. atomic energy commission says it isn't yet sure of the loyalty of all the union officers in the atomic picture.

The commission, in a recent, little-noticed report to a congressional committee, made these two points:

1. Non-Communist affidavits. Some unions that are organizing in atomic plants haven't filed them, and neither have their national officers.

2. Loyalty investigations. The atomic energy act provided that all persons with access to restricted information must be investigated as to "character, associations, and loyalty." Atomic employes have been cleared under this provision, but what about their union officers outside the plants?

Loyalty Important

The commission said the loyalty of a union's international president—or of any other officers with authority over the local union—"may well be of equal importance to the loyalty of the individual employes."

The same applies to union negotiators and grievance handlers.

The commission warned of an unpleasant result if the disciplinary power of an international president should be "diverted to subversive ends."

The commission said no problem of this nature has arisen at Oak Ridge. All the officers of the CIO Chemical Workers and the various AFL unions in the Oak Ridge plants whose loyalty was considered essential submitted voluntarily to FBI investigations.

The wartime ban on unions at Oak Ridge was lifted two years ago by the Army, before the atomic energy commission was created. So far as security is concerned, it has worked out all right.

But the commission said "it does not follow that experiences elsewhere will be identical."

In Loving Memory

★Of our own darling mother, Mrs. Ella Switzer, who died April 29, 1940.

Eight years of silent sorrow,
Eight years of grief and pain;
The blow was great, the shock severe,
We did not know the end was near.

Only those who loved her can tell
The pain of parting without farewell,

The dearest mother and finest friend
Whom God could never lend.

Loving, gentle, thoughtful and true,
Always willing a kind act to do.

The ones who think of her today
Are the ones who loved her best.

We are lonely, yes, for mother,
In the years that have passed away,

And we know she'll always guide us
Till we meet again some day.

She is happy, reunited with her pal, our father, dear,
In that beautiful Isle of Somewhere

They await us children there.

So sadly missed by the children,
Louise Shroll, Elsie Rice,
Earl Thomas, Pearl Thomas and Grandchildren.

Four Fines Levied On Traffic Charges

Four persons were convicted on minor traffic charges and one forfeited $25 bond, the state highway patrol reported yesterday.

Richard P. Ziegman of Fostoria, arrested on route 23 Sunday and released under $25 bond, was fined $15 and costs in municipal court on a speeding charge.

Phillip Cavanaugh of Upper Sandusky, arrested on a speeding charge on route 23 Tuesday night, forfeited $25 bond to municipal court.

Lloyd V. Purvis of near Cardington, charged with operating a motor vehicle without benefit of driver's rights, was fined $5 and costs by Mayor Bennington of Mt. Gilead following his arrests at 8:30 last night on highway 42.

Harry W. Martin of Edison, booked on a speeding charge at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday on route 95, was fined $15 and costs on a plea of guilty in municipal court yesterday.

Arrested at 3:45 p. m. yesterday, charged with driving a motor vehicle at an excessive rate on highway 30, north of Bucyrus, Mike Pascerella of Chicago Heights, Ill., was fined $5 and costs by Mayor Hertzer of Bucyrus.

PENNSY EMPLOYES AT CRESTLINE SAFETY RALLY

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, April 29 — The safety rally held at the high school this week was concluded by the awarding of prizes, one to G. G. Hesser for being the oldest pensioned employe present, and to H. K. Hammond for being the oldest. The rally was for all employes of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Enginehouse Foreman T. D. Hoffman opened the event. There was group singing, also selections by the Crestline male chorus, directed by Dr. E. G. Hesser with accompaniment by Mrs. Gregg Pennington. Ft. Wayne Division Supt. P. M. Roeper and Crawford County Prosecutor Leo Scanlon were among the speakers. Rev. W. L. Margard gave the safety address. H. R. Williams and J. C. Beason of Mansfield presented a piano and accordion duet. The shop quartet consisting of Glen Johnson, Gordon Jenkins, Jay Mettert and Carl Steinhelfer was also a feature.

Examine 67 Children At School Clinics

Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, city health commissioner announced today that a total of 67 pre-school children were examined in the pre-school clinics held Wednesday. At Silver street school 27 children were examined, North Main street 22, and Forest Lawn 18.

Schools at which the clinic will function Thursday, are Glenwood and Greenwood, and children who will attend any other school who have not as yet been examined may be brought to either of these schools for examination, Dr. Weinbaum said.

MARSEILLES SERVICE

Rural Life Sunday will be observed at the Marseilles Methodist church with a service Sunday at 8 p. m. Morning worship will be at 11, at the Wesley Chapel church of the Marseilles charge worship Sunday will precede Sunday school, and at the Salem church there will be no preaching service Sunday, Rev. E. B. Dean, pastor, announced.

Associated Press Food Editor

There are good, hearty recipes in a cook book called "From a Grosse Ile Kitchen" by Lucy and Sidney Corbett, published by Harper and Brothers, New York. The result of a husband-and-wife collaboration after Sidney Corbett was struck with paralysis, the book is not only about food but also about "fun and friends."

The Corbetts know the perfect soup for this time of year—leek and potato—of course. Hear them tell about it and see if your fancy doesn't turn to the kitchen.

"Leek and potato soup, made with milk—an almost forgotten spring delicacy! The leek is a sort of glorified spring onion. It has a green top, a white stem, a bulbous root with a feathery bottom, and a tough, rather inedible outer skin. Cut off some of the green top and the feathery root part, and peel away the tough outer skin. Then cut all the remainder crosswise in quarter-inch slices. Allow one good-sized leek per person. Peel and dice two medium-sized potatoes per leek. Chop fine one large stalk of celery. Now put leeks, potatoes, and celery into a covered pot and boil slowly. Use only enough water to cover, and boil until leeks, celery and potatoes are reduced almost to a pulp.

"Then cut about three slices of bacon or salt pork—salt pork is better—into quarter-inch cubes. Fry out the cubes slowly in a frying pan.

"By now the leeks, potatoes and celery should have boiled well down. Take the cover off the pot, add the bacon or salt pork cubes, and stir in. Add milk—two cups per person—and bring everything to a boil—very slowly, stirring occasionally to prevent burning, until the soup is the consistency of good cream. Salt and pepper to taste, but be careful of the salt if you have used salt pork rather than bacon for the cubes.

"While all this is in progress, cut slices of stale bread—one slice per person—into half-inch cubes and brown the cubes in the remaining hot fat in the frying pan.

"When all is ready, serve the soup in a tureen or ladle directly into bowls. Put the croutons in another bowl—heat it first—and sprinkle a liberal handful atop of each bowl of soup as it is served. Delicious, delicate, satisfying—an ideal spring dainty."

Here is another good soup for spring. Served with a crisp salad and a fruit dessert, it will make an excellent company lunch.

Cream of Chicken Soup With Special Garnish

Four tablespoons butter or margarine, 2/3 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 cups hot milk, ¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning, 3 cups rich chicken stock, ½ cup diced cooked chicken, 1½ cups puffed rice, ¼ cup melted butter or margarine, ½ teaspoon curry powder, ¼ teaspoon turmeric, ½ teaspoon salt.

Melt 4 tablespoons butter or margarine in heavy saucepan. Add flour, salt and stir until it bubbles. Add hot milk slowly, stir until smooth and cook until thickened. Blend in chicken stock, add meat and heat very hot. Garnish with puffed rice mixed and crisped with curry, turmeric and salt. Six servings.

CHILD REASONING

Reasoning, in the child, begins by the time he is two years old. By the time he is six or seven, his reasoning processes are quite well developed.

ANNIVERSARY MARKED BY B. OF R. T. AUXILIARY

Special honor guest at observance of the fifty-fourth anniversary of Pride of 33, Lodge No. 79, Ladies' auxiliary to B. of R. T., Tuesday night was Mrs. Mayme Zeigler of Mansfield, only remaining charter member. Preceding the lodge session, a banquet was held at Hotel Marion. Corsages were presented Mrs. Zeigler and Mrs. Golda Leffler, president. Past presidents who were there were given white carnations. In recognition of her "15 years of faithful service" in her office, Mrs. Rena Clark, treasurer, was presented a gift. A business session was conducted at Democratic headquarters hall. Proposed changes in the constitution were voted to be sent to the grand lodge in Columbus. Appointed to serve on a social committee for the next quarter were Mrs. Pearl Sidenstricker, Mrs. Lucille Drake, Mrs. Virginia Diehl, Mrs. Naomi Beckley and Mrs. Lucy McMorrow. A 20-year pin was presented Mrs. Emma Baehr by Mrs. Marie Wilson. Past presidents staged a "Gay 90's" skit with appropriate music and costumes, with Mrs. Daisy Haflich as mistress of ceremonies. Taking part were Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Mary Moran, Mrs. Drake, Mrs. Maude Martin, Mrs. Emma Humes, Mrs. Carra Faust, Mrs. Addie Hentze, Mrs. Ida Miller, Mrs. Nellie Meyherrer and Mrs. Geraldine Saull. Present from out of town besides Mrs. Zeigler were Mrs. Tony Daley of Mansfield, Mrs. Annabelle Cole of Bucyrus, and Mrs. Ida Miller of Lakeview.

Wheel Chair, Provided by Club, Brightens Day for Polio Victim

By ELAINE BALLINGER

A little girl who is as bright and alert as any eight-year-old you'll find in Marion, but who cannot run and play as other children do, has something new now in the way of "transportation." In fact, she is a little bit envied by playmates who after school or in other free time find it fun to try out the new device which was given their little friend Marlene recently. The gift was forthcoming after a group of Marion club women heard of the need of Myrtle Marlene McBeth of 467 North Grand avenue, and decided she should have the junior size wheelchair which they purchased some time ago for another Marion child who now has no further need for it.

Marlene, blue-eyed and blond haired oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McBeth, stricken with polio at the age of six months, was presented the wheelchair by her new grown-up friends, members of the Business and Professional Women's club. The attention of the club was drawn to Marlene by Miss Inez Kraner, Marion city school nurse, who visits the little girl. Miss Kraner is a member of BPW. Although Marlene is almost completely helpless as far as normal use of her arms and legs is concerned, yet she can do one thing few other children can do. She loves to color with crayons, and this she can do with her toes. Only her left hand is usable.

Able to Feed Herself

With it she is able to feed herself. Otherwise, she is quite dependent on the ever constant care of her mother. Mrs. McBeth is kept quite busy, for besides Marlene, she and Mr. McBeth have four other children, Larry, 6, Kathleen, 4½, Donnie, 3½, and Kay, 1 in March. Mr. McBeth is a press operator at a Bucyrus industrial plant, and works on night shift.

Quite fond of all her lessons, Marlene thinks that her favorite, perhaps, is reading. She is taught for an hour each day by Mrs. H. G. Roest, visiting teacher of the city school system. She is now on her second book of her second year. Miss Kraner took her to the George Washington school for crippled children for an hour and a half one day, an experience which she much enjoyed. It is not considered likely that it will be possible for her to go to school regularly, however. She likes music greatly, and it is her mother's hope that she may be taught harp some time.

In Cast 6 Months

At the time she was stricken with the disease which took toll of the power of her arms and legs, she was placed in a cast in which she remained encased six months, or until she was about a year old. When removed from this,s a long series of treatments was found to have improved her ability to sit up. It is the hope of her parents now that she may be helped further by such treatments again. Although they are without the financial means to pay for the care at present, neighbors and friends are saving for her Ohio sales tax stamps. Money from the returns of these stamps may be used for the aid of polio cases, the family learned recently.

Providing the wheelchair for Marlene is just one of the projects which the Business and Professional Women's club has undertaken. Members have assisted also in various drives to promote the general health welfare of the community and the nation, a goal in keeping with a definite policy of the entire National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs. The junior wheelchair was loaned the first time after its purchase by the local club last year to a Marion child who had suffered severe leg burns, as a result of which he was unable to walk for several months. The members, both individually and as an entire club were happy to learn that in late November four-year-old Robert "Biff" Gwinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Gwinner, was recovered sufficiently to do without the wheelchair. He and his parents now live at 602 Bellefontaine avenue.

SERVICE TIME CHANGED

A change in time of services at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church in Richland township, effective Sunday, has been announced by Rev. H. N. Doerres, pastor. Sunday school will convene at 9:45 a. m., a quarter hour earlier than the formerly scheduled Sunday school time, and worship will be at 10:45, likewise a quarter hour ahead of the previous schedule. At St. Joseph's church at Waldo the service hours will remain the same, worship at 9:45 a. m., and Sunday school following, Rev. Doerres said.

The number of one-room U. S. schools declined at the rate of about 4,000 a year during the 1920s and 3,600 a year during the 1930s.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

TWO big railroad unions—the trainmen, and the firemen and enginemen—threaten to strike [illegible]

[illegible] big union, the engineers, may strike then, too. All three have been fighting for a pay raise. Such a strike would tie up the country.

Isn't there a law to stop it? No. Why come? Wasn't the Taft-Hartley law passed last summer, supposed to stop a strike like [illegible]

Wasn't that the Taft-Hartley law [illegible] a couple of years ago to [illegible] John L. [illegible] big coal [illegible] Why can't [illegible] used in this [illegible]

James Marlow

In the first place, there's no [illegible] that says a strike must be stopped permanently. At best a strike can only be delayed a [illegible]

And—the Taft-Hartley law does not apply to railroad unions. The law itself says so.

Disputes between railroads and railroad unions are covered in a special law, the railway labor act, passed by congress in 1926.

There is a big difference between the Taft-Hartley law and the railway labor act. Here's how:

1. Under the Taft-Hartley law, when there's a big strike the government can step in and ask a federal judge for an injunction—court order—to stop a strike for 80 days.

When such an order is issued, it's compulsory. The union must not strike for those 80 days.

When such an order is issued, it's compulsory. The union must not strike for those 80 days.

But after that time it is free to strike. So the injunction is not a permanent no-strike order. Those 80 days of no strike just mean that much more time for a union and an employer to reach an agreement.

2. It's different under the railway labor act. It outlines various steps for delaying a strike.

But not one of those steps is compulsory for a railroad or a railroad union. Either side can ignore any, or all, of the steps.

BOTH SIDES HAVE always more or less followed all the steps. Public opinion would be against the side which didn't.

Here's how the railway labor act works and how it has worked in this case—

1. When there's a railroad-union dispute, a permanent, three-man government board, called the mediation board, steps in. It tries to get both sides to agree to a settlement.

(The pay raise dispute between the railroads and the three unions mentioned earlier in this story started last June. On November 24 the mediation board stepped in.)

2. If the mediation board fails—in this case it knew it had failed by mid-January — it asks both sides to accept arbitration.

ARBITRATION MEANS a board of three or more men, agreed to by both sides, which listens to the arguments and then gives a decision.

That decision is final. It ends the dispute. But—there can be no arbitration unless both sides agree. As pointed out, neither side under the railway labor act has to agree to anything.

(In the case of the three unions in this story, the unions refused to let an arbitration board be set up.)

If arbitration is refused the mediation board tells the President. (It did in mid-January.) It tells him there's a national emergency because of the threat of a rail strike.

3. Then the President sets up a board of fact-finders. (Mr. Truman did.) And there is not supposed to be a strike—but, again, this is strictly voluntary—for at least 60 days after the fact-finders have been appointed.

THE FACT FINDERS recommend a settlement. Neither side has to agree to it. If one side turns it down, the union is free to strike.

In this case the fact-finders recommended the unions accept a pay raise of 15½ cents an hour. The unions turned this down.

They had asked a 30 per cent pay increase, with a minimum raise of $3 a day. Nineteen other railroad unions, not involved in the present strike threat, had previously accepted a raise of 15½ cents an hour.

But once the fact-finders' recommendation has been turned down, the railway labor act provides no other step to delay or stop a strike.

In the Service

Pvt. Ronald C. Wren, serving with the U. S. Army, has been spending a few days here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. McCombs of 27 Cottage street, while enroute to Albuquerque, N. Mex., from Ft. Knox, Ky. Pvt. Wren has been in the service 15 months.

Pfc. Jay Long, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Long of Prospect, has reported to Keesler AFB, Miss., for training in the Air Forces radar school located there. Keesler AFB is one of the bases of the Technical Division, Air Training Command, and is also the home of the Airplane and Engine Mechanics School and the Air Chemical School.

Midshipman Bruce A. Nystrom, USN, has arrived at the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla., for advanced aviation training and upon completion of the three months' course, will be awarded his Navy wings. While at the Naval Air Station, he will undergo final phases of aviation training including instrument flying technique and carrier qualifications. Upon being designated a Naval Aviator, he will receive orders for further assignment to the fleet. Midshipman Nystrom is the son of Mr and Mrs. V. A. Nystrom of 441 Hane avenue

GRANGE CARNIVAL AT MT. GILEAD SATURDAY

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, April 29—Mayor Ray Bennington will present the key of the city to William Wilson, Grange master, at the courthouse annex Saturday night at the annual Gypsy Festival-Carnival according to the grange planning committee, M. Doyle Rusk, Irene Phillips and Imo Lawyer.

Music will be furnished by grangers under the supervision of Mrs. Sam Richardson, during the evening's festivities. Raymond Burns, past master, will head the fun and frolic committee and Mrs. W. R. Conaway is the receptionist. No entrance fee will be charged. Mrs. Charles Beck and Mrs. Lester Brown will supervise a home cooked lunch, starting at 5:00 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kelly will plan decorations.

Irene Phillips and Mildred Barler are in charge of the booths for the carnival-festival, which is expected to attract both young and old.

DID NOT WRITE
"AESOP'S FABLES"
A Graeco-Italian named Babrius wrote the famous Fables several centuries after Aesop's death. Some chroniclers maintain that Aesop was in reality only a legend . . . that such a character never really lived at all. In any event the fables he is supposed to have composed are lost. Not one exists today.

CARD PARTY NETS $50 FOR HOSPITAL

Alpha Chapter of Gradale Sorority Sponsors Event.

Approximately $50 will be turned over to the fund for the proposed new hospital by members of Alpha Chapter, Gradale sorority. The fund represents receipts cleared on the benefit card party sponsored by the chapter last evening in the Elks' hall, in the interest of the new project. Twenty-five tables were filled for cards.

Winners of high scores at the individual tables received prizes and special awards were won by Mrs. Kenneth Fields, Mrs. Dorothy Slack, Mrs. Mary Jane Elsey, Mrs. Rose Ross, Mrs. Charme Nelson, Mrs. Sally Gruber, Mrs. Garnet Simmons, Mrs. Harold Haughn, Mrs. H. L. Geissler and Mrs. J. J. Croushore.

Mrs. Gerald Smart was chairman of the general committee in charge of plans for the benefit and assisting were Mrs. Robert McCombs, Mrs. H. E. Webster, Mrs. Richard Meister and Mrs. Gerald Maynard.

It has been estimated that at any given time one in every four Americans needs some kind of medical attention.

Tired, "All-In"— Listless Feeling Brought To Halt
As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Sojourners Observe Past Masters' Night

Past masters' night was observed by Sojourner Lodge No. 653, F. and A. M., at the Masonic temple Wednesday night in recognition of all those who have served as worthy master of the lodge in previous years. Work in the fellowcraft degree was conferred by past masters. The honored guest was Judge James W. Ruhl of Cleveland, a past grand master of the grand lodge of Ohio, thirty-third degree Mason, and an honorary member of Sojourner lodge. The local lodge is one of 31 Masonic organizations of which he is an honorary member. Of the 31, he has visited 29. He gave a short talk on masonry.

Past masters taking part in conferring of the fellowcraft degree were Howard Guthery, Earle Johnson, Harold Clark, J. H. McCurdy, J. J. Stafford, Grover Snyder, George Stafford, Dewey Hunter and William J. Thomas. Plans were made to confer the entered apprentice and fellowcraft degrees May 3 and the master mason degree May 10. Luncheon was served following the meeting.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles—which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and picking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for human beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues... whether a man should drink beer or cider... whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts ... instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

Ken Lanning Hurls 3-Hitter as Muncie Evens Series with Cubs

Hoosiers Win, 5-4, in Game Highlighted by Three Homers

By BILL DIEM

Muncie hurler Ken Lanning duplicated Si Pavkov's opening-night three-hit pitching performance at Lincoln park last night as the Hoosiers evened up the two-game series, winning, 5 to 4, in a game highlighted by three four-base clouts.

The honor of belting the first ball out of the park went to Muncie's Walter Polinski, who drove one over the left field fence with one on in the fourth inning.

Bill Bolduc, leading off in the Cubs' half of the fourth, smashed a three-two pitch over the same wall and in the sixth, Bill McConnell aimed one over the right field fence.

The Cubs will be at home to the Richmond Braves tonight and tomorrow with both games slated to start at 8 p. m.

Walks 1st Man

Marion pitcher Frank DeLuca walked the first man he faced, Wayne Carlson, on four straight balls, and Wayne put himself in scoring position by stealing second, the first of four successful Red steals. Bob Nieman, who joined the Red only yesterday, singled Carlson home with a drive that eluded Cub first baseman, Manager Zeke Bekeza.

Nieman opened the Reds' fourth with another one-base drive in the same direction and Carl Bush followed with a hard hit liner out to right-fielder Bill Bohlander, who juggled the pickup to give Bush an extra base, but the throw in to Cub catcher Tom Gatts caught Nieman trying to come home.

Polinski homered Bush home, and the Reds counter another single before DeLuca retired the side and took a shower.

Reliever John Graney walked his first man, Lanning, who got to second when Graney balked. Lanning moved to third when Carlson went out, Hansen to Bekeza, and came home when Nieman rapped out his third single of the night. Neiman stole second but was left there.

McConnell Homers

Polinski and Billy Ford flied out in the fifth, but McConnell belted one over the fence for the Reds in the sixth. Harold Bart singled and stole second, but was caught off base, Graney to Vito Tutera, on their third try.

The Cubs went into the ninth inning trailing five to one, and jumped into a rally which fell two runs short.

Tutera opened the ninth with a single to left field, moving to second when John Moore juggled the ball. Gatts walked, pinch hitter Tom Neely struck out, and Hansen walked to fill the bases, and Nick Alivojvodick was called in to pinch for Chuck Borden.

Nick singled to right field scoring Tutera and Gatts, and Hansen came home when Bekeza flied out to Moore in left field, who threw to McConnell and McConnell to Carlson catching Alivojvodick at second and ending the game.

The Reds got five hits off DeLuca and five off Graney. Lanning walked 12 but struck out 10 with his sizzling fast ball.

Ramon Peet, 18-year-old right-hander from Ashtabula, O., will be on the mound tonight against the Braves. Manager Bekeza will use Tom Neely on third for Lou Castrovince and Pete Schnepf will play shortstop instead of Vito Tutera.

OI League In Three-Way Tie

By The Associated Press

Portsmouth, Lima and Zanesville were in a three-way tie today for first place in the Ohio-Indiana baseball league.

Portsmouth, newest member of the Class D loop, pushed alongside Lima and the defending champions last night, with an assist from the weatherman.

Lima's game with Richmond and Zanesville with Springfield were postponed because of wet grounds.

When Portsmouth tripped Newark, 4-3, at Newark, it gave the Ohio river city its first Ohio-Indiana win—and a share of the lead. Lima and Zanesville won their openers Tuesday. Portsmouth and Newark had tied 5-5 in 10 innings.

Newark appeared to have tied the Portsmouth game at a 4-all last night in the eighth inning, but umpires called catcher Jack Maroney out for failing to tag third base on his way to home plate.

Tonight, Portsmouth is at Zanesville; Muncie at Lima; Richmond at Marion, and Springfield at Newark to open two-series.

7 MARION COACHES TO ATTEND CLINIC

The third annual Cleveland Browns' football clinic being staged in Cleveland tomorrow and Saturday will be attended by seven Marion coaches, including Pete Howison, Kenny Somerlot, Howard Thomas and George Keck, all of Harding High school, and former St. Mary's coach Gene Fetter and assistants, Martin Lewis and Forrest Sharrock. In addition to the Browns' clinic, all are planning to attend the Ohio State university clinic May 7 and 8 to hear Notre Dame's Frank Leahy and Wes Fesler of OSU divulge the darkest secrets on proper football behaviour.

This year's session in the Browns' camp will consist of talks by the Browns' coaching staff with Paul Brown, himself, discussing such subjects as "Building Morale on a Football Squad," Opening Up the T-Formation," and "The Cleveland Browns' Offense and Defense."

More than 1,000 college and high school football coaches—a record representation for any such affair in the country—are expected to attend the two-day session, including grid mentors from Ohio, New York, Illinois, West Virginia, Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Iowa.

Highlight of the clinic is the dinner tomorrow night which will be addressed by Ed Bang, sports editor of the Cleveland News, and John Da Grosa of Temple university's coaching staff. Fritz Howell, Ohio sports editor of The Associated Press, will be toastmaster. A look-in on the Cleveland Indians-Detroit Tigers baseball game Saturday is included in the festivities.

PACERS COME TO FORE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—Pacers once were the ugly ducklings of the horse racing world, but today the top harness money-winning horse in action is a pacer. April Star leads with $61,876 in winnings.

PRESIDENTS TO MEET ASHLAND NINE TODAY

With a record of two wins out of three games played, the Harding Prexies baseball team will travel to Ashland today for their second successive road trip this week. Having dumped Waldo (19-3) and Caledonia (15-5), and suffering their lone reverse (2-1) at the hands of the Mansfield Tygers Monday in a fluke loss which saw Don Johnson pitch no-hit ball, the Prexies will be out to start a new string of victories today when they engage the Ashland A's.

Ashland, fielding a veteran nine, number among them the oft lauded Dick Messner of basketball fame who serves as No. 1 pitcher on the team. He is reputed to be a competent performer on the mound, being described as a smoke ball artist with fine control. The A's with wins over Akron Buchtel and Galion have also been sidetracked by the Tygers of Mansfield.

Starting pitcher for the Prexies in today's encounter will be Seedle, and Selter will work behind the plate.

World Record Trotter To Race Saturday

By The Associated Press

ARCADIA, Calif., April 29—World record trotter Rodney is slated to compete in the $5,000 Los Angeles free-for-all trot at Santa Anita Saturday, a race augmenting the feature of the day—the $50,000 Golden West Pace.

Rodney, with his mark of 2:09 2/5 hung up here last week for a mile and one sixteenth, rates the favorite's role over Chestertown, Proximity, Lingo Direct, Kaola and others named for the mile and one-eighth side feature.

The pacers, meanwhile, are putting in final drills for their mile and one quarter effort in the big race for the division at the current grand circuit meeting.

Dr. Stanton remains a popular choice, but such pacers as Forbes Chief, The Diplomat, Rudagar and Jimmy Creed retain strong following.

Yesterday's feature, a trot, was won by Red Tower, with a win payoff of $10.50. Lingo Direct, the betting favorite, finished last in the field of eight.

ASHLEY OPENS MAY 2

The Ashley Independents baseball team will open the 1948 season with a game against the Galion American Legion team at the Ashley Community Park May 2 at 2:30 p. m. Any team in the Central Ohio district interested in booking games on a home and home basis should contact Frank (Jarve) Bryant, Independent's manager.

Things Are Looking Up For Southworth's Boston Braves

By The Associated Press

Things are looking up for Billy Southworth and his Boston Braves after a week of disaster. Excellent pitching jobs by Warren Spahn, Red Barrett and Bill Voiselle have lifted the would-be contenders from the cellar gloom.

Spahn's first win of the season yesterday marked the return to normalcy of Manager Southworth's gang. For Spahn and Johnny Sain, ex 20-game winners last year, were expected to lead the Braves toward the 1948 flag. Spahn missed his first time out and Sain failed twice.

It was Voiselle's three-hit shutout of Brooklyn that yanked the Braves off the floor Monday. Barrett followed with a six-hitter Tuesday. Then came Spahn's two-hit gem against the Phillies.

Real Sparkler

Spahn's job was a real sparkler. He faced only 28 Phillies in his 7-0 victory, walked none and fanned four.

Johnny Vander Meer made it a lefthanded day in the National by stopping Chicago with six hits while his Cincinnati mates clubbed Johnny Schmitz and Don Carlsen for an 8-1 score on 12 hits.

The victory put the Reds in a four-way tie for second place at .500.

The New York-at-Brooklyn game was rained out but both clubs provided disturbing news. From the Giants came word that catcher Walker Cooper, who has hit four homers, has a chip fracture on his left knee. He was injured April 21 but caught four of the last five games. He will be out several days.

Pitcher Harry Taylor of the Dodgers learned he may have to undergo an appendicitis operation. The hurler, who was to have faced the Giants yesterday, complained of severe stomach pains. He is being held in a hospital for further examination.

Cold weather postponed the scheduled night game between St. Louis and Pittsburgh in the National. In the American Washington at New York, Boston at Philadelphia and Cleveland at Chicago were called off because of cold, rain or wet grounds.

Detroit took the sole American league game, 9-4, over St. Louis with a 13-hit assault on four Brownie pitchers.

Vet Groups To Organize Loop

A meeting of the veterans organization of Marion county to form a softball league will be held Friday at 8 p. m. in the club rooms of the Bird-McGinnis Post, American Legion.

Organizations already indicating a desire to join a softball league are the AMVETS, Bird-McGinnis, GI, Prospect and Waldo posts of the American Legion, and the Navy club.

All other veterans organizations in the county who are interested are invited to attend the organization meeting.

Only Win Betting Is Possibility In 74th Kentucky Derby Saturday

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29—There's a possibility that only win betting will be allowed at Saturday's 74th running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs. Not since 1905, when only three horses were entered, has a similar situation existed.

With the probable field pared to six horses, Churchill Downs officials said they might meet Friday to determine whether they can afford to allow both win and place betting and still pay off at the customary rate of not less than 10 cents on a dollar.

Since two of these six horses form the seemingly unbeatable Calumet Farm entry of Citation and Coaltown, there remain only four entries on which to bet. Show wagering definitely is out.

The officials said they would take no action on the matter until it confronts them.

The expected field includes, in addition to Citation and Coaltown, Escadru, My Request, Billings and Grandpere.

Citation has cost race tracks money in his last three starts. He looked like such "a good thing"—and was—that bettors plunged on him to win or place, almost to the exclusion of other entries. This resulted in so-called minus pools for the race tracks, since bettors ordinarily are guaranteed a return of at least 10 cents on the dollar if their pick comes in.

The Coaltown-Citation entry is expected to open as the 1 to 5 favorite in the official morning line Friday.

Millers Pin 12 to 0 Shutout on Colonels

By The Associated Press

Minneapolis pinned a 12 to 0 shutout on Louisville last night to keep pace with St. Paul in the American Association standings.

The Saints edged out a tight, 2 to 1, victory over Columbus which gave them nine wins against three losses and kept their second-place deadlock with the Millers intact; however, the second placers were two games behind front running Indianapolis.

In other games last night, Indianapolis overpowered Kansas City, 11 to 4; and Milwaukee sunk last-place Toledo, 14-3.

Outfielder Frank Genovese gave the Millers and pitcher Bill Clark a big boost with a pair of homers in the first two innings at Minneapolis. Genovese's second round tripper came with the bases full. Cleston Ray and Babe Barna powdered homers in the third inning and the hard-hitting Babe also added another in the seventh. Clark limited the Colonels to five safeties in blanking them.

Lemon, Feller To Try Browns

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, April 29—Cleveland's red-hot Indians, still the only undefeated club in the major leagues, moved here today for a two-game series with the St. Louis Browns.

The Tribesmen were forced to cool their heels for the second straight day yesterday as rain washed out an engagement with the Chicago White Sox and brought about a change in Manager Lou Boudreau's hurling plans.

Bob Lemon and Bob Feller will pitch the series against the Browns, with Lemon taking the hill today in search of his second triumph. His last assignment was Friday in Detroit when he beat the Tigers, 8 to 2.

Lemon might come back again Sunday against the Tigers in Cleveland, said Boudreau, who plans to use him with only two days of rest, provided he has an easy game today. Known as a rubber-armed hurler, Lemon can work with a minimum of relaxation between assignments.

Feller will be aiming for his third straight decision tomorrow and second over the Browns, whom he blanked in the season opener in Cleveland last week, 4 to 0. The Cleveland ace is not due to work again until the Indians open their first eastern tour at Philadelphia next Tuesday, but he will be available for relief duty Sunday.

Ned Garver, who may pitch for the Browns in today's game with the Cleveland Indians, was with Newark in the Ohio State league in 1944.

Four Marion Boxers Win at Mansfield

Four of five Marion boxers fighting on an 11-match card at the Mansfield Friendly House Tuesday night came off with decisions.

Numbered among those taking decisions were Jack Seckinger, 145, over Bill (Torpedo) Johnson of Mansfield; Ernie Arcuri, 160, over Bill Eccles, 163, Friendly House; Dick James, 126, over Gene Ayers, 120, Friendly House; and Harold Waits, 145, over Art Mowery, 149, Ashland. Bill Franklin, 122, lost to James Middlebrook, 124, Friendly House by a ko in 1:49 of the second in the only reverse sustained by the Marion stable of boxers.

Other results:

Alton Fowler, 133, FH, vs. Ralph Greer, 133, FH, three round exhibition; Howard Carney, 128, FH, ko'd Lester Duviel, 126, of Greenwich in 1:25 of the first; Don Esbenshade, 159, FH, decisioned Eddie Williams, 159, of Ashland, and Ray Burdine, Mansfield, decisioned Eddie Martin of Ashland. A battle royal, seventh on the program, completed the card.

BOWLING SCORES

Commercial bowling league, marking final standings Friday saw Axe Funeral Home finish on top by a one game margin, 58-41, while Squirt and Osgood tied for second with 57-42.

Independent bowlers show a two-way tie in both first and second place as the season ends. Modern Market and Schaffner-Denzer hold top standing with records of 58-41 and Eagles and Hinton Sports share second place on records of 56-43.

Thibaut of Anson Pickerel shot games of 213-203-193—609 to take series high in the final night of bowling in the Commercial league and Winter rolled 231 for Osgood for the best single game score. Baer hit 227, F. Layman, 224, Rife, 222, Cocherl, 215, and Bailey, 212 for other high final scores.

R. Herriott with 243-230-168—661 for Hinton's Sports was far beyond other competition in the Independent league. However, C. Mull hit 224, Predmore, 234, Hill, 220, Seaton, 211, Maag, 216 and Hanovich, 216 for a good night all round.

Season's highs in the Independent show, Hanovich, 277, single, and Herriott's 661, the best in series. The Morral Supply team took team single high, 1056, and in three games, 2788, Gene Mull maintained 180 for season's high average.

Somerlot Compiles List Of Harding High Track Records

Harding High school's varsity field and track records, dating back to 1935, which are to be listed on a record board and hung in the stadium locker room, have finally been compiled after hours of searching through newspaper files of The Star by Kenny Somerlot, track coach at Harding.

As no records have been kept at Harding of past track meets it has been necessary to take the marks as listed in past issues of The Star.

Anyone possessing proof that a better mark was made in any of the events listed below since 1935 should contact Coach Somerlot at the Harding school.

Harding High school track records, as compiled by Kenny Somerlot are as follows in order of event, record holder, year set and the record:

100 Yard Dash—Shaw, 1939, :10.2.

220 Yard Dash—Jenkins, Daly, 1941, :23.2.

440 Yard Dash—Hudson, 1940, :55.

880 Yard Run—Hudson, 1940, 2:00.9.

Mile Run — Cocherl, 1940, 4:59.7

880 Yard Relay—Ralston, Jenkins, McGinnis, Walters, 1940, 1:37.5.

Mile Relay—McGinnis, G. Lewis Frost, Hudson, 19490, 3:42.2.

Redlegs Beat Chicago, 8-1

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 29 — It was like the days of old at Crosley Field yesterday. John Henry Vander Meer pitched like the Vandy of some six years ago and, when he finished his mound chore, it was a six-hit job and Cincinnati had an 8-1 victory.

The Chicago Cubs were Vandy's victims and, although he fanned only three, the Redleg left-hander was in command throughout.

Some observers considered Johnny's performance comparable with his form of 1941 and '42 when he won 16 and 18 games for the Reds. His speed, however, was not on a par with the 1938 season when he turned in two consecutive no-hit games.

Vandy's mound job was dimed, however, by the club's loss for at least 60 days of catcher Ray Mueller, who suffered a fractured right ankle in scoring one of the Reds' runs.

Mueller's injury occurred in the fifth inning as he slid into the plate and his run broke a 1-1 tie.

The Redleg receiver had reached first on an error and then moved over to second as first sacker Ted Kluszewski beat out an infield hit.

Johnny Schmitz, the Chicago starter, threw wild to first attempting to catch Kluszewski off the sack and both runners advanced. Mueller came home on second baseman Bobby Adams' outfield fly and shortstop Virgil Stallcup counted Kluszewski with a single. The Reds scored another run in the sixth and then iced the game with four counters in the next frame.

The St. Louis Cardinals came to Crosley Field today for a two game set with Redleg Ken Raffensberger opposing Murry Dickson.

SPEAKS ON ARGENTINA TO GALION ROTARIANS

Special to The Star

GALION, April 29—Argentina as he found it on his trip there was colorfully described by Kenneth M. Petri at the dinner this week of the Galion Rotary club. He said that it was closer by far to Europe than it is to New York, also closer culturally and economically to Europe. Argentina is the most progressive of the South American countries, Petri declared. He said that it has some of the finest newspapers in the world. Small towns have the same public utilities as we enjoy in this country. This is not true, Petri said, of towns the same size in other countries of South America. Buenos Aires, the capital, is noted for its subways, underground parking lots, excellent railroad stations, movie houses and theaters, Petri asserted.

Cattle and sheep raising and agriculture, rather than industry, prevail in the country. The speaker also told of Nazi influence during World War II. Attorney Petri was introduced by Ford Mellott.

Edison Juniors Defeat Galion Trackmen, 59-41

Edison Junior high school's track team, under the tutelage of George Whitehead, brought home a 59-41 victory yesterday after a dual meet with the Galion junior trackmen.

Max Trent was top man for the Edison squad with firsts in the 100 and 220 yard dashes while also serving as anchor man on the relay teams. The Edison boys won the meet by placing first in nine of 13 events run.

K. of C. Council Elects Convention Delegates

Delegates and alternates to the annual state convention to be held at the Deshler-Wallick hotel in Columbus May 15, 16 and 17, were elected at a meeting of Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday. Floyd Cornely, grand knight, and William Simmons were named delegates and alternates chosen are J. Clarke Byrnes and D. J. Malloy.

Past grand knights were honored with past officers, headed by Carl Werley as past grand knight, occupying the various offices.

Thomas Moloney reported on plans for the organization of a softball league to be made up of teams from councils in the southwestern part of the state and stated another meeting to complete plans would be held May 7 at Urbana. The games will be played on Sunday, it was planned.

Lunch followed the business session with Lawrence Haanan, lecturer in charge. Out-of- guests included Robert P. grand knight, Anthony I deputy grand knight, Leo Bagill, lecturer and F. O'Brien, past grand knig Delaware and Henry Rob Marysville, past district d

Championship Match Tonight

Steve Nenoff will get his chance tonight at the Marion Armory to get back the gold belt he lost to Gene Blakely two weeks ago in a much contested match. It took Promoter Fishbaugh two weeks to get Blakely to sign for a return bout and it was only after Nenoff put so much pressure on the present title holder that he finally gave in for the return match. This will mark their third meeting, the first ending in a ninety minute draw, the second meeting was a wild affair with the belt being handed Blakely after kicking Nenoff out of the ring. Just what the third will end in, is anybody's guess but Steve swears it will be he who wears the belt when the match is over. Time on the main event will be two hours or the best two out of three falls.

Len Hughes returns in the one hour semi-final to meet a new boy, from Brooklyn, Al Alexander. Al has been headlining shows in Toledo and comes with the rep of being very able to take care of himself. Mickey Mouse and Sluggo Jones will be the ten minute prelim at 8:30. Prices remain the same, call 2745 after six for reservations. —Adv.

Court Approves Action By Insurance Company

COLUMBUS, April 29 — The Ohio supreme court Wednesday upheld the validity of the re-organization of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co., of Cincinnati as a mutual insurance corporation rather than a domestic stock company.

The court refused to review an appeal from the Franklin county common pleas and appelate courts and dismissed the action on the grounds that no debatable constitutional question was involved.

The suit was brought by William L. and Mildred J. Chesbrough on the grounds that state laws authorizing the change in organization were unconstitutional.

LEGAL NOTICE

In the Court of Common Pleas, Marion County, Ohio. Case No. 29779.

In the Matter of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Marion, Ohio.

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Marion, Ohio, has filed in the Common Pleas Court of Marion County, Ohio its petition for authority to encumber real estate, said real estate being as follows:

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 29—Oil issues tried to take over leadership of the stock market again today. A number of stocks, though, turned out to be baiter with the result that small gains balanced closely with equally small losses.

Turnover continued at a fairly rapid rate but the market seemed to be undecided between picking up the thread of the spring advance, meandling along indecisively, or sliding back.

Traded at higher prices were such issues as Sinclair Oil, Standard Oil (NJ), Phillips Petroleum, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast line, American Airlines, J. I. Case, U. S. Rubber, Chrysler, American Smelting, and U. S. Gypsum.

Bethlehem Steel, for which earnings will be issued after the close, pushed ahead for a while but later slipped into the minus column. Others marked down included General Motors, U. S. Steel, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Philip Morris, Allied Chemical, General Electric, and Anaconda.

MAURICE HERNDON

Insurance Agents Will Meet Friday

When the Marion County Association of Insurance Agents meet for their monthly luncheon and program Friday the speaker will be Maurice Herndon, assistant Washington representative of the National Association of Agents. The meeting will be held at Hotel Marion at 11:45 o'clock.

A former newspaper man and radio commentator, Mr. Herndon has just returned from a tour of 26 states in the interest of arousing independent business men to the socializing threats now pending in congressional legislative proposals.

The Washington representative of the more than 100,000 member fifty-year-old Property Insurance association will relate the fight, in which the newspapers of the country have joined with the property insurance agents and other small business men who seek to maintain their individual contractural status.

Dare-Devil Magician Coming To Palace

Walter Harland Floating Girl Over Niagara Falls

Floating a living girl over the brink of Niagara Falls, without visible support is typical of the hair raising feats presented by this daring magician, who comes to the Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday in the stage show "Laugh and Thrill Sensations of 1948" under the auspices of the Under Privileged Children Fund of Marion.

Many times Harland floats a living girl over the edge of the tallest building in cities where he appears, for publicity purposes. Back from two years in India he presents feats acquired in Mystic India never before shown in America. He thrills his audience, mystifies and keeps constant flow of laugh throughout his interesting act.—Adv.

AUTO PLANTS CUT OUTPUT

Coal Strike and Steel Shortage To Blame for Loss of Production.

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT, April 29 — Steel shortages are costing the auto industry a production loss it will not be able to make up this year. Whether the loss will go over half a million units is yet to be determined. The cutback growing out of the coal dispute already is under way and the factories probably will not get back to the top postwar output level until late June.

Closed this week are General Motors' Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac parent plants. When these units reopen next week Chevrolet, which accounts for more than half the GM output, will go down for at least a week.

With Ford getting only nominal production during a model change-over, Chrysler is carrying the load for the industry. But Chrysler too expects to cut production because of the steel situation. It may be able to maintain its current rate of about 23,000 cars and trucks weekly into next month, but most industry analysts expect a Chrysler cut by mid-May.

Up until today the industry has produced this year approximately 1,200,000 passenger cars and about 455,000 trucks.

Right now the car industry probably is worse off for steel than it was at this time a year ago—and its prospects are no better. It expects to lose considerable tonnage to the European recovery program and to national defense, but it doesn't know how much.

So assembly line operations are being set up on a week-to-week basis in nearly all automotive plants.

Along with prospects for a drop in new car output as the season of heaviest use appears, demand and prices are reported mounting for vehicles in used car lots.

The trade paper Automotive News reporting on a recent survey of used car sales, said this week: "Continued heavy demand for '48 models has acted to force prices up as much as $200 in a period of two weeks in some areas, dealers reported. Some operators have already reported certain models as exceeding last year's prices, with retail pressures not yet at their fullest."

RITES IN BELLEFONTAINE

GALION, April 29—Earl D. Horn and family of Galion were in Bellefontaine Monday attending services for his sister, Mrs. Harry S. Harner, 86, who died at her home there last week. Dr. E. E. Flack, dean of Hamma Divinity school at Wittenberg college, Springfield, conducted the services. Surviving are one son, Dr. Paul Harner of Coshocton; two brothers, Earl of Galion and George C. of Bellefontaine, and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret McLaughlin of Bellefontaine and Mrs. L. F. W. Lesemann of Evanston, Ill.

EMBALMERS TO MEET

KENTON, April 29 — Frank Schindewolf, Kenton funeral director, is a member of the executive committee planning the program for the sixty-eighth annual convention and exhibition of the Ohio Funeral Directors association. The convention will be held in the Cleveland public auditorium June 1-3.

AUTO SWIMS, RUNS ON 2 WHEELS

MOTOR BUBBLE Atomicar, designed by aircraft engineer.

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y. — A two-wheeled amphibious midget automobile that looks like a wingless airplane has been designed by a Buffalo aircraft engineer.

The creator of this gasoline-powered vehicle, Frank M. Salisbury calls it the Atomicar and expects to sell it "under $500." He says test models for one and two passengers now are being made in Cleveland but he doesn't expect to attempt quantity production until 1949. Salisbury is a former project engineer on the Bell P-39 and P-63 pursuit planes.

The Atomicar is powered by an air-cooled rear engine and is hydraulically driven—no clutch, no differential, no transmission.

"It really is a fully-enclosed motorcycle," said Salisbury, adding that it has two extra retractable wheels, one on each side. "They drop automatically when the speed is reduced to five miles an hour and they retract again between five and eight miles an hour," he explained. "The biggest feature is automatic stabilization to prevent tipping at low speeds."

Salisbury said the car will be built for speeds not to exceed 42 miles an hour and will run about 45 miles on a gallon of gas.

Flaps on the rear wheel will propel it through water, he said.

Mrs. Ward Installed As Bethel Guardian

When Bethel No. 2, Order of Job's Daughters, met at the Masonic temple Tuesday night, Mrs. Marie Ward was installed as guardian. She was appointed to that position in place of Mrs. Zoa Hill who resigned. Mrs. Mildred Buente, past grand guardian of Ohio, acted as the installing officer. Arthur Ward, associate grand guardian of Ohio, and Mrs. Genevieve White, vice grand guardian, were present. Plans were made for the group to observe Go to Church Sunday on May 2 at First Presbyterian church. Following the meeting, a social hour with dancing and refreshments was held.

185 ON RAIL WORK

BUCYRUS, April 29—Working from a completely equipped work train, a 185-man section group is laying new rails on the Pennsylvania railroad east and west bound lines through Bucyrus this week. The work is a part of an extensive replacement program now in progress by the company. The most modernized equipment is being used in lifting and replacing the tracks.

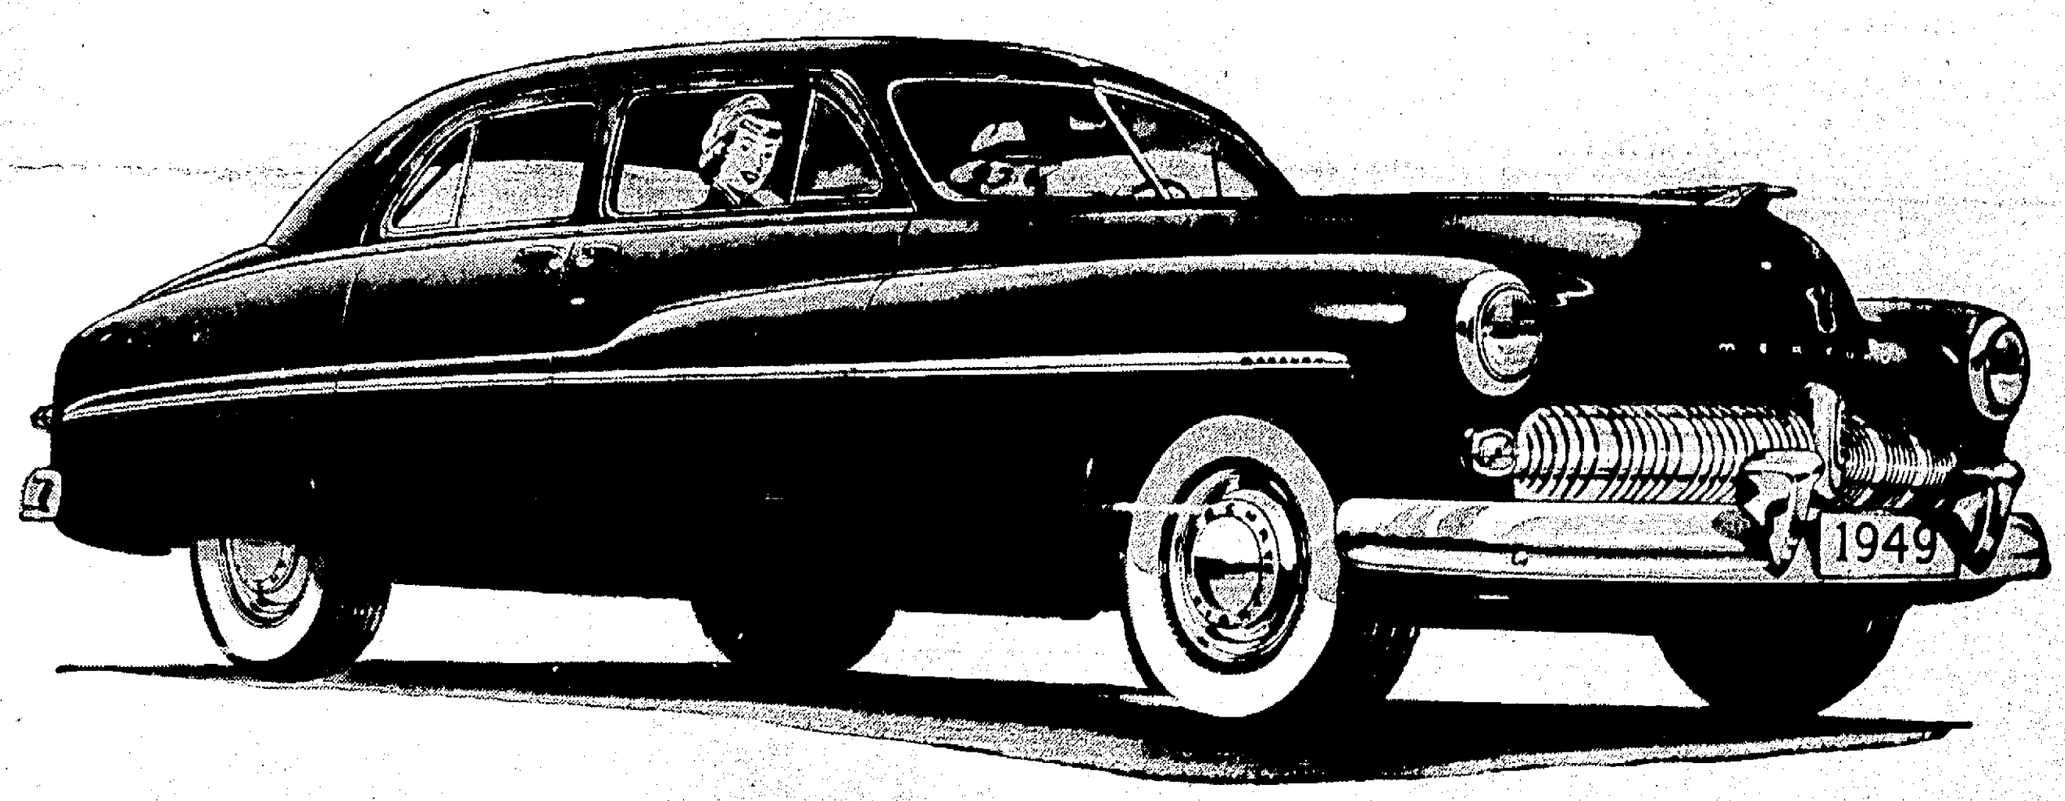
All-New MERCURY



The All-New 1949 Mercury

You've seen a lot of "new models."

Once in a long, long time you see a new car.

Today is one of those times. The 1949 Mercury on our floor is the car.

With your very first look you'll know Mercury is new, all-new. From the front? Mercury is wider, with strikingly handsome grillwork, and exciting new fender treatment completely enclosed in a sleek, graceful, curved-arch silhouette. From the side? Mercury is longer and lower, with a poised-for-flight look that gives an illusion of motion even when the car is standing still. From the back? Mercury has all the luxurious styling you expect to find only in a car far above Mercury's price class.

This 1949 Mercury is a product of 1949-plus engineering. It has a big, rugged frame—with safety, stamina and down-to earth roadability in every inch of it. There's all-new spring suspension, with a lullaby ride above it.

New safer, wider rims—with new, bigger super-balloon tires—make shocks and sideway a thing of the past. There are all-new super-brakes with velvety "STOP" in 'em, and a new 8-cylinder, V-type power plant with get-up-and-"GO" in it—a power plant designed and built exclusively for Mercury! There's even a new, fog-free, leakproof "Fingertip Weather Control" so you can flood the car with fresh, outside air at your will.

It's here, waiting for you to see. All-new beauty, all-new comfort, all-new performance. Every inch and pound is all-new—inside and out, top to bottom, front to back. Available in a choice of superb body styles, including Mercury's all-new Six-passenger Coupe and Six-passenger Convertible.

So . . .

Before you think of buying a new model, see the ALL-NEW Mercury.

That's the only break this 1949 Mercury asks of you!

SAYS NAVY CHARGED TOO MUCH FOR OIL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 28 — A senate committee declared today that the Navy was overcharged at least $30,000,000 on its wartime purchases of Arabian oil.

The committee put the blame on what it called the Arabian American Oil company's "avaricious desire for enormous profits" and a government "lack of responsibility."

The company, known as Armaco, retorted that its price policies have saved the Navy more than $26,500,000. It said "the benefits to the nation's economy * * * have only just begun."

The congressional charges were outlined in a windup report by the senate war investigating committee. The committee held lengthy hearings on the wartime oil deals between the Navy and Armaco, which operates the Saudi Arabian concession.

The report declared that the company "received all the benefits" from more than $99,000,000 worth of lend-lease aid given to Saudi Arabia "and in return ignored their promises" to sell oil to the government at a nominal profit.

Marion WCTU Head At Banquet in Akron

Mrs. Chester A. Thomas of 569 East Farming street, president of the Marion County WCTU, and son, Tommy, spent the weekend in Akron, leaving here Friday. They visited Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Thomas and son of the Haven of Rest Mission in Akron. At a banquet for almost 600 guests of various church groups in Akron held Friday night, Mrs. Thomas of Marion gave a short talk in which she commended the people of the mission for the work done there by them. She also gave several humorous readings.

Rev. Samuel Morris was the evangelist throughout the services which were held in commemoration of the fifth anniversary of the founding of the mission. Sunday afternoon, Rev. Morris gave a temperance address to which WCTU workers were especially invited. A choir of 100 WCTU members from the state was organized by Mrs. Thomas of Marion and sang a special number.

Mrs. Thomas and son were guests Saturday night of Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Deeds in Akron. Rev. Deeds, a former pastor of the Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren church here, is now pastor of the Hope Evan. U. B. church in Akron.

ALWAYS THE CHISELER

By The United Press

BERLIN — Official documents found in Hermann Goering's desk and published in book form show that the late Nazi spent in 1937 48,000 marks (about $19,200) for his food and paid 190 marks ($76) income tax.

ST. LOUIS MUSICIANS TO PLAY TUESDAY

Will Close Season of Concert Association.

A program by the St. Louis Sinfonietta Tuesday night at the Palace theater, will close the 1947-48 concert season sponsored by the Marion Community Concert association. Appearing with the group as soloist will be Sascha Gorodnitzki, pianist.

Regarded as one of the finest playing groups of its kind in the middle west, the Sinfonietta was founded less than a decade ago by Paul Schreiber, American conductor. The group is made up of young and enthusiastic artists, some of whom were members of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra. Because of their years of experience in the symphonic field they possess the extra talent of knowing how to play together. This highly developed sense is responsible for the beauty of the ensemble — organ-like qualities heard to incomparable advantage in the orchestra, which all comes as a result of years of training and months of rehearsing.

The repertoire of the ensemble includes many of the writings of the elder masters, Bach, Haydn, Mozart and Vivaldi, and almost limitless examples from the recent and contemporary composers, Debussy, Ravel, Stravinsky, Hindemith and Shostakovich.

The conductor, Paul Schreiber, a native of St. Louis, received his training from world renowned musicians. A brilliant and extremely musical interpreter of his programs, he conducts with a delicate sense of balance and a constant consideration for the true meaning of the composer.

Engineer Maps County Road Program for This Summer

A progress report on the work to be handled by the county engineer's office this year was issued today by Walter W. Johnson who declared the 1948 program to be the largest to be undertaken by the commissioners' and engineer's office in the past seven years.

Among the numerous road projects listed in the report are included construction plans for a section of the Keener pike, completion of the LaRue-DeCliff and Hillman-Ford road projects, building of one concrete bridge, relocation and replacing of a second bridge, painting of seven others and several grade crossing surveys and plans for county road changes to be worked out with the army engineers in connection with Delaware Dam area and Scioto ordnance plant roads.

Plans Completed

Road plans for construction of Keener Pike, No. 100-B, were completed Feb. 1 and forwarded to the State Highway Department for approval. This project, 2.8 miles in length, is expected to be constructed this year under the federal aid program.

Survey has been made for the grade crossing elimination project on the Marion-Cardington Road, No. 136-B, in Pleasant township, requested by the Pleasant board of education. After plans and estimates are completed, the next step will be to work out financial arrangements with Pennsylvania railroad officials.

Due to the Delaware dam construction, certain roads will be vacated in the reservoir area. The first road south of Waldo running east from route 23, will be vacated for about a half mile. This road has a very good steel bridge spanning the Olentangy river, and county commissioners have proposed that it be relocated over the same river on the Edison road, No. 169-H. The present Edison road bridge span would be increased 47 feet by this installation, needed to fit the water flow at this point. During heavy rains water floods the road south of the bridge for about 1,000 feet.

E. J. Nesper of the engineer's staff is designing abutments and making other plans pertinent to the relocation. Mr. Johnson stated that no plans have been made for the disposition of the present bridge on the Edison road after the change has been made.

New Concrete Bridge

Reed Ours, assistant engineer, is designing a concrete bridge for Township Road No. 104-B, in Richland Township. The new bridge willl replace a steel structure which is in poor condition and which is out of alignment with the road. The new bridge, with a larger span is also needed to stop flooding across the road a short distance south of the bridge. Mr. Johnson said that he expects to have this bridge built this year.

Mr. Ours also will assume the field engineering on the construction of the LaRue-DeCliff Road. This project, 4.45 miles in length, was awarded last year by the State Highway Department to the S. G. & W. Construction Co., and the completion date is set for Aug. 1.

As soon as weather permits, the U. S. Construction Co. will complete the Hillman-Ford Road, No. 94-D.E. This road, 2 miles long, is about 90 per cent complete, and was awarded by the state highway director last year. Work is being supervised by Chief Deputy V. M. Dutton.

Mr. Dutton is preparing estimates for painting of seven river bridges. Bids are to be advertised shortly. This group, along with five painted last year will complete painting of all Olentangy river bridges.

Works on Joint Ditch

Mr. Dutton has just completed assessments on the petition to clean out the Cusick ditch and repair tile branches. The survey crew is now working on the Carroll joint county ditch in Grand and Salt Rock townships.

Negotiations are under way for the reestablishment of the roads in the Scioto Ordnance Plant area. Army engineers have not yet consented to the opening of all roads in the area. The commissioners have requested a conference with them at an early date to discuss this matter.

The commissioners have instructed the engineer's office to procure right-of-way for the reconstruction of Pole Lane Road from State Route 30 north to the Big Four and Erie railroads. After the right-of-way has been secured, engineers are to survey and draw up plans for a 20 foot pavement on a 60 foot right-of-way. Construction will depend somewhat on whether the railroads will raise the level of low tracks to a level with their high ones, to provide a safe crossing. Mr. Johnson stated that it was problematical whether this prject could be started this year.

Contract was awarded last week to the U. S. Construction Co. for drag treating 35.88 miles of existing black topped roads and new treatment to 1.92 miles, amounting to over $86,000.

Mr. Johnson said the foregoing major projects will make this the biggest year of his administration, not including major break-up of roads due to severe winter frost and heavy spring rains. Maintenance work under Walter E. Fetter, road superintendent, will include the patching of all roads, hauling of several hundreds of tons of stone on macadam roads and drainage repairs. As a part of the maintenance program, five cars of road oil have been ordered for dust control. Several townships are participating in this program.

GET FERTILIZER FREE

BUCYRUS, April 29—Bucyrus gardeners will have no excuse for poor gardens and flower beds this year with 200 tons of the finest fertilizer free for the hauling. That amount of digested sludge, the richest type of fertilizer, has accumulated at the city sewage disposal plant and city officials last week invited citizens to carry away the material. Amateur gardeners have been carrying away the sludge in baskets, tubs and buckets, some coming with trucks, since the offer was made public.

TESTING BABY'S IQ — After six years research, Dr. A. R. Gilliland of Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., came up with 40 scientific tests of an infant's IQ. Here he and assistant, Mrs. Rosemary Manke, try four of them on Charlie. Top left: Charlie starts when bell rings. First reaction rates an A. Top right: He grasps teething ring which he should do. Lower left: Baby changes expression when he sees mask. That scores high, too. Lower right: Charlie likes a rattle. Tots shouldn't be indifferent.

KANSAS WORLD'S GEOGRAPHIC CENTER

By The United Press

OSBORNE, Kan.—Kansas, long recognized as the center of the nation, is to have the added honor of being listed as the geographical center of the world.

The U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey says that a vast project to measure the size and shape of the earth will start from the small marker on the Meade ranch near Osborne.

Most of the earth's 57,500,000 square miles of land have been linked together with a network of triangles pointed directly to this marker, which is the geodetic center of North America.

For years the marker has been the starting point of all surveys in the nation.

From the White House to the most unpretentious barn, all buildings which have been surveyed are listed on charts as being a certain distance from the Meade ranch marker.

Now government experts have a much broader plan in view, to tie together astronomical observations and gravity checks, and by triangulation to reach a new determination of the size and shape of the earth as a whole.

Besides the geodetic center, Kansas also has the geographic center of the United States within its borders.

VICTIM COMPENSATED

By The United Press

NEW YORK—The Board of Estimate voted $3,000 to Frank Graham, 27, who was wounded by stray police bullets during a chase of holdup men Feb. 20, 1946, and spent a year recovering. The city has no legal obligation in such cases, but the board said it felt a moral obligation to compensate Graham.

WRITES EXPERIENCES IN BOGOTA UPRISING

Special to The Star

KENTON, April 29—An eyewitness account of the recent Communist-inspired revolution in Bogota, Colombia, was received here this week by Mrs. Richard B. Merriman from her brother Granville Parker of Bogota, whose daughter Dolores Parker served as receptionist to the American delegation at the Pan-American conference.

Excerpts from his letter follow:

"On Friday the ninth, when the revolt started, Dolores was favored by fortune. She had been relieved for lunch by another girl just 10 minutes before the Capitol was overrun by the mob. The relief girl had to jump from her office window, broke her ankle and has been sent to Panama for treatment. That was the first close call for Dolores.

"She left the restaurant and hotfooted it for the embassy. The building where the restaurant was was later burned. Dolores and some 50 other Americans were isolated on the fifth floor of the embassy until 10 a. m. the next day. Norman Armour and Averill Harriman were among them; Armour took charge.

Blood Everywhere

"Twice during the night the building was set afire. Upon being evacuated the next morning, Dolores saw that the first three floors had been burned out. Blood was everywhere, even on the walls. Twice during the night they had prepared to abandon the building but they could neither pass through the flames nor face the shooting mob in the streets surrounding the building.

"By morning the local army had a heavily armed convoy to evaculate all to the Chapinero, the suburb in which we all live. Dolores was much wrought up.

"By 6 o'clock of the ninth, we had received a relayed message from Dolores that she was safe with the embassy group. On that fateful day, from my office in a bank building, I could see what was happening. I closed up our department, put my people in a group, wished them luck, and started on a one-man rescue mission for Dolores.

Armed with "What Not"

"My expedition was utterly hopeless. I merely got hemmed in, completely surrounded and in immediate danger of being summarily killed. I am so evidently a "gringo" and the pro-Russian element is not too fond of gringos today.

"The rubble was armed with machetes, cane knives, sickles, golf clubs, carpenters' saws, fencing foils and what-not. Their weapon in one hand a bottle of whiskey or rum in the other, they were "viva-ing" the Revolution, the Liberal party, the Communist party and Russia in general. They were against the Conservatives, the priests and the Americans. It was a wild walk home."

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

RAPID CITY, S. D.

"IT IS HARD work to live like a white man."

An old Sioux Indian said this privately to a friendly doctor interested in helping his copper-colored people. But more and more Indians are making the effort to live like white men. The system of putting them on reservations doesn't work out for all. Many now want to find a bridge between their old nomadic life and the new stability of a weekly paycheck.

Hal Boyle

Here the reservation system is in trouble because the land now won't support the growing Sioux population. And the Sioux won't adapt themselves to a farm culture.

They don't like the static life of the plow. For centuries they were wandering warriors and hunters who followed the buffalo. They never had a chip on their shoulder but they were quick to muscle out any other Indian tribe that tried to stick a feather in the wide Sioux domain.

They also were intelligent and highly artistic. They still are—for all their present dirt and degradation.

They also are eminently practical. They are hungry. What do they do when a female county agent comes by to teach them the principles of poultry raising and leaves them a setting hen and a dozen eggs?

When she returns to admire the results, all she usually finds are chicken bones, feathers and eggshells, and the Indians are still hungry.

MORE AND MORE THE Sioux are becoming bemused by the white man's cities. Rapid City, which claims a population of 26,600 is also one of America's largest Indian urban centers. The number has climbed from 700 to 2,500 or more in a few years.

They come largely from four reservations—Pine Ridge, Cheyenne River, Standing Rock and Rosebud.

Torn by old tribal loyalties, belly demands, and the white man's get-ahead-in-the-world philosophy, they are a strange people in transition. They neither are what their grandfathers were nor what their grandchildren will be. They are trying to fit into the pattern of a violent, self-seeking race of foreign conquerors whom they were scalping only seventy-two years ago.

THEY ARE STILL dubious of the white man's sporadic interest in their welfare.

"They come and investigate us and go away," laughed one middle-aged squaw, "and nothing happens. Then some more come back and investigate us again."

But they never feel sorry for themselves. To me the Sioux seem a racial cocktail—a people stoical as the Japanese, an independent and happily irresponsible as the Irish, as cynically subtle as the French.

In their climb from semi-savagery to what we label civilization, they go three stages—they are known as teni, shack or house Indians.

The tent Indians are a sad caricature of their ancestors. They are sheltered by canvas tents instead of skin teepees. They try to live on the original American army "K" rations-balls of pounded sun-cured meat mixed with dried fruit and tallow and eaten with dried corn. (Note to war veterans: No, the darn stuff doesn't taste any better than "K" rations.)

AS THEY PROGRESS, the tent Indians build shacks of boxes and scrap wood. Then the more ambitious save money and build modest wooden houses like the white worker does.

Typical of the "house Indian" is Mrs. William McGaa, who left the Pine Ridge reservation 25 years ago with her husband, now a construction worker. They own their own small house, had 13 children, raised twelve, three of whom married whites. Five of Mrs. McGaa's sons entered military service during the last war and four served overseas.

"I felt pretty well protected," she smiled. "I had sons in the Navy, the Marines, the National Guard, the cavalry and the infantry. All I needed was one in the Air Corps.

"I've educated my children. They've done well, and we've never asked anything of the government. People have been telling the Indians what to do so long that they've come to expect it. We're better off that we left the reservation.

SCHOOLS GRADUATE 118 IN WYANDOT CO.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 29—There will be 118 pupils graduating in the Wyandot county schools this spring. Of this number 14 students received their diplomas when Salem High school, the twenty-fifth senior class, held commencement last week. Rev. Fr. Mark Mindrup, OFM-Conv., gave both the invocation and the benediction. Addresses were given by class speakers Reva Orians and Leo Swartz. The class address was delivered by Mack Sauer, editor, of Leesburg.

Willis Binau of the school board awarded diplomas to the seniors: Winifred Davidson, Saloma Frank, Shirley Frank, Rosella Kear, Joseph Logsodn, Evelene Moses, Reva Orians, Jeannette Schmidt, Mary Ellen Schmidt, William Schmidt, Leo Swartz, Gaylord Trautman, Joan Weaver and William Weaver.

The graduation exercises of the Wharton High school were held last Friday at the Methodist church in Wharton. Fred T. Milligan of Columbus, native of Wyandot county, now state director of commerce, spoke. Howard Kemmerly, of the board of education presented the diplomas to the following: Carl Boden, Charlotte Gerber, Janis Herbert, Charles Hunter, Daisy Kear, Donald McGinnis, Loretta Snook, Louis Schoenberger and Paul Walter.

Eight students will graduate this year in Eden. Commencement exercises will be held May 4. The other schools in the county hold nine-month terms; they are: Mc Cutchenville, Sycamore, Marseilles, Harpster, Nevada and Wyandot. Harpster school has 15 graduates, McCutcenville 12, Marseilles 12, Nevada 15, and Sycamore 25.

Arrangements for the affair were in charge of Mrs. Margaret Foreman.

Two new partners, Mrs. Florence Arndt and Mrs. Geneva Dripps, were given the obligation. The next meeting will be May 24 at the home of Mrs. Marguerite Keller in Mt. Gilead.

TO REMODEL CANNING FACTORY AT MORRAL

Company Makes Plans for Extensive Improvements.

Plans have been completed which will make the Morral plant one of the most modern and sanitary corn canning plants in Ohio, William B. Swonger, president of the St. Marys Packing Co., announced today.

The preparation, canning and processing rooms are to be joined and new floors laid. All machinery will be new or rebuilt, with several newly developed machines for sweet corn canning installed. New unloading facilities are to be built with new steel conveyors.

Although the plant capacity will be doubled, the acreage will be increased by only 20 per cent this year. Approximately 300 acres are to be planted in Marion county with a like amount in Wyandot county.

The St. Marys company has eight plants in Ohio, two in Indiana and one in Wisconsin.

E. S. Snyder, former chemist for Marshall Canning Co., Marshalltown, Ia., and World War II veteran, is superintendent of the Morral plant.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

MY mental barometer traveled downward at Katie's question, for I knew it was a reasonable one, and that I could give her no reassuring answer.

"That will be your chief problem, Katie," I said slowly. "My father wishes Mr. 'K' and King George to stay in as wing before we shall arrive. Tell them that I said I wishes you to clean the wing thoroughly because King George and his bride would occupy it. I think you'll find they will be most cooperative."

"Ye, I hope you're right," Katie said darkly. "But eef dey vot you call co-oper-a-tive, dey first have to get used to eef ze dot cared a drop how mooch work dey made for vimmens. Me I'll bet ve get curtains and rugs and everything clean, and dey set der eyes right all over und—"

"You can clean house up in a hurry, Katie," Mrs. Tiger said placatingly, "if we get the big job done."

"Yah," Katie scoffed, "und how you get smoke out of curtains?"

"We won't need to," Mrs Tiger said, and Katies head reared in hostile questioning.

"How you figger dot?" she asked sharply.

"Do you think King George is going to stop smoking because he's married?" she asked placidly. "And Princess Olina will have some cigarets with him, you can bet. And neither of them is going to worry whether the smoke is today's, last week's or last year's. If you were flying up there for Queen Olga, or Madame Graham, you'd have to worry, but not for those two. Were you and Jim worrying about curtains when you were on your honeymoon?"

Katie giggled.

"Ve didnst know vish vas roogs und vich coortains," she said. "All right, I qvit vorrying, und I do best I kin."

"That's all I want to hear," I said, as I rose. "Remember, get the house all in order, order provisions enough, nd I'll send you registered letters with further instructions. When the florist comes tomorrow night, he will see Mr. K', and Mr. 'K' will tell Jim what's needed."

"I no see florist?" she said wistfully, but I steeled my heart against her cajolery.

"That wont ve necessary, unless he asks for you," I said. "Just be around, in readiness, if he wishes to ask you a question, but don't even come into the room with him unless you're asked."

"Okay, okay," she said a bit huffily, but I had no time to indulge her vagaries.

"Now, I won't keep you any longer," I said. "I know you're in a hurry to finish your dishes. I'll just go over to the library. I think Mr. Graham is waiting for me there."

They scurried out, and I went over to the library, finding Dicky there, as I had guessed. He sprang up as he saw me come in.

"Nearly ready to go?" he asked.

"All ready," I said, picking up my hat, coat, gloves, purse and small emergency bag from the chair where I had deposited them. "I'm not spending any time in drinking."

I put my hat on my head, and Dicky held my coat while I slipped into it.

"I'll get my own traps," he said, going to another chair, and in another minute we were on our way to the car, going through the kitchen to the chorus of vociferous "good-byes" and "good luck's" from Katie and staidar, wiser from Mrs Tiger.

Jim was outside with the guards but managed to get a word aside with me.

"I'll see that Katie don't get uppity, Mis' Graham," he said, "and I'll see to everything you said."

"I know you will, Jim," I said, shaking hands with him heartily, and then Dicky and I were in the armored car, and careening out of the farmyard.

"Tell him to slow up when we get on the Montauk highway," I whispered to Dicky. "I want him to turn off just before we get into Southampton, and I don't want to miss the turn."

Early Treatment Important in Case of Cataract

Clouding of the lens of the eye is known as cataract. There are various reasons for the tissue changes which lead to cataract, among them being poor circulation and poor diet. It is generally agreed, however, that when cataract appears before the age of 60 it is due either to infection of the eye itself or to a toxic condition elsewhere in the body, in which substances harmful to the lens are produced.

Such changes in the lens occurring after the age of 60, and the majority of cases do occur after 60, are usually due to the aging processes. Some physicians are of the opinion that these changes are unavoidable and cannot be warded off. However, other doctors believe that with right living habits, such as the use of proper diet, rest and exercise, and the correction of physical disorders, the development of cataract in elderly persons often can be prevented.

The patient with cataract usually consults a doctor because of spots before the eyes, dizziness, or headache, or because light causes pain in the eyes. In other instances, the only symptoms of cataract are gradual loss of vision.

Many persons with beginning cataract, failing to realize their trouble, feel that all they need to do is to buy a pair of glasses. Of course, this will not correct their vision because the cataract blocks the passage of light rays into the eye. Furthermore, the delay in having treatment allows the cataract to progress.

Early changes in the lens of the eye produce a gradual loss of eyesight. In fact, the loss of vision may be so gradual that the patient is not conscious of any inconvenience. Later on, if the patent has been wearing glasses, he may find that he sees better without them. This happens because the lens swells up. This does not mean that the condition is actually improving. In fact, it only indicates that the trouble is getting worse.

Up to the present, the only satisfactory method of treating cataract, once it is fully developed, is by removal of the lens. Of course, the operation should be done by one who is skilled in this procedure.

Before the operation the patient should be put in the best possible physical condition. Following it, the patient should be kept on his back for about four hours, after which time he may be turned on either side. However, the head must be kept flat for at least a week.

As persons approach middle age they should consult an eye specialist from time to time for examination of the eyes, even if they have had no difficulty with the vision. In this way, the development of cataract may be discovered early and proper measures taken to ward off the progress of the condition or, in any event, to keep the eyes under observation until operation is required.

Questions and Answers

A. C. Will you please tell me something about neuritis?

A. Neuritis means inflammation of a nerve or the tissue surrounding a nerve.

Local neuritis generally comes from a cold, most commonly in the facial nerve. It may be due to trauma from wounds, blows, direct pressure on the nerve, the tearing and stretching which follows the breaking of a bone, or it may be produced by injecting ether into a nerve. It may result from the extension of infection from a neighboring part, such as neuritis of the facial nerve, due to infection of the bones in the face or skull.

In the local type of neuritis there are no general disturbances in most instances. The most important symptom is pain of a boring or stabbing sort, usually felt along the course of the affected nerve and in the parts which the nerve supplies. The skin may be slightly reddened or swollen over the site of the inflammation. Sometimes there is an increase in the temperature.

BONJOUR, LUPO! HAVING NO REPORT FROM MY CHIEF OF SCOUTS, I THOUGHT...
BUT I COULD NOT COME, MON CAPITAINE... YVONNE AND YVETTE WERE HUNGRY... I HAD TO MARKET... COOK... BUT COME IN, MESSIEURS, AND YOU WILL UNDERSTAND...
MY WORD, SIR! THIS IS DREADFUL! THEY LIVE LIKE ANIMALS!
THEY'RE LOVELY CHILDREN! HELLO, YVONNE! HELLO, YVETTE...
YOU SEE, M'SIEU, I COULD NOT REPORT THEM TO THE AUTHORITIES... THEY WOULD HAVE TAKEN YVONNE AND YVETTE AWAY FROM ME... AND I PROMISED MY PARENTS, BEFORE THEY WERE KILLED BY THE BOMBS...

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

HIROHITO, Emperor of Japan, born April 29, 1901, was head of his country when the Japanese invaded Manchuria in 1931 and attacked Pearl Harbor in 1941. The vast powers of his throne were wielded in his name by a group of his subjects strong enough to seize control. Nevertheless before World War II, 70 million Japanese regarded him as divine. After his country's defeat an imperial rescript denied his divinity.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

There is testimony that civilization is wallowing in a quicksand of luxury . . . Raymond Duncan claims too many people sleep on mattresses and Sam Goldwyn finds that money is the root of all feeble pictures.

* * *

In Tokyo, city employes are demanding a bonus for getting married and the Indians of central Arizona are clamoring for wattage in their wigwams.

* * *

There is no telling where all this will lead but we are willing to go if there is air conditioning, television and a delicatessen.

* * *

But it becomes more evident every day that while creature comforts are improving the creatures are not.

* * *

Imagine demanding 10 thousand yen to get married! There was a time when one yen was enough for anybody.

* * *

Of course I haven't seen the brides.

Birmingham is England's second largest city.

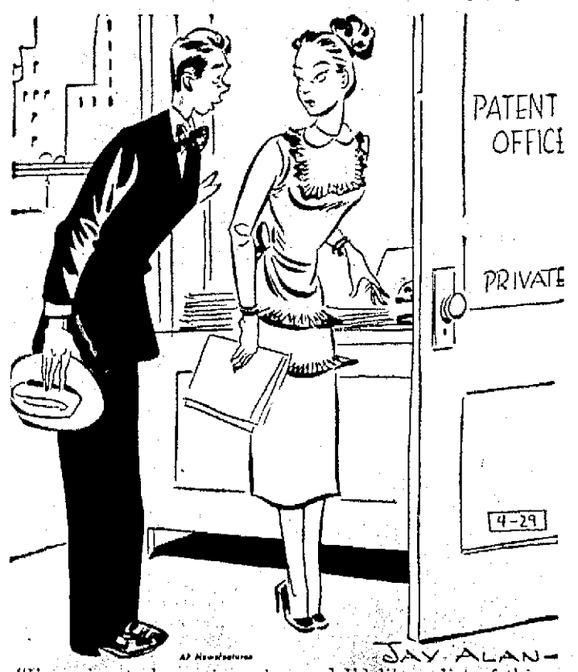
MODEST MAIDENS — By Jay Alan



"I'm going to be an inventor and I'd like a list of things that haven't been invented yet!"

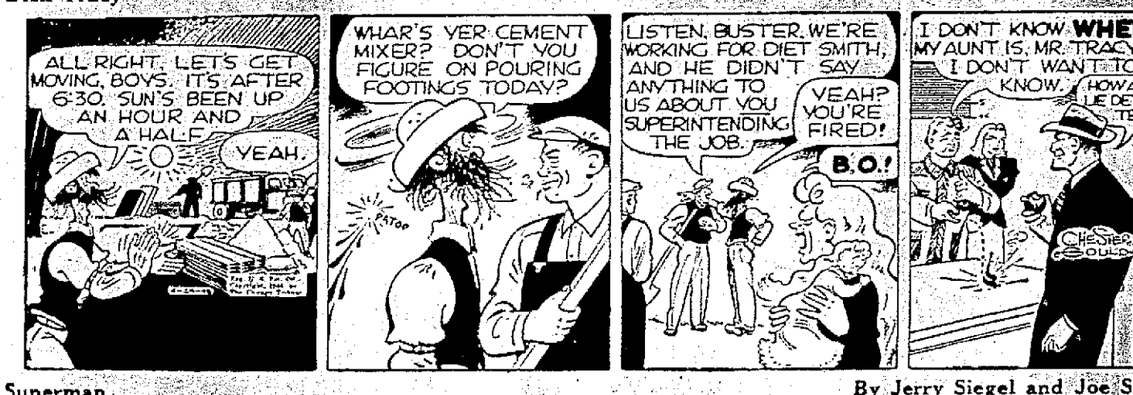
And Nothing Can Be Done About It — By H. T. Webster

GEORGE CAME HOME LAST NIGHT WITH THIS STORY. SEE IF IT MAKES ANY SENSE TO YOU. HE LAUGHED HIMSELF SICK OVER IT.
HE SAID TWO AGENTS SAT TOGETHER WATCHING A PREVIEW OF A BIG PICTURE. ONE WAS THE AGENT FOR THE MALE STAR OF THE PICTURE AND THE OTHER FOR THE FEMALE LEAD
THEY SAT THROUGH SEVERAL REELS AND THEN ONE NUDGED THE OTHER. "LOOK AT THOSE TWO HAMS UP THERE," HE SAID WITH DISGUST, "GETTING EIGHTY PERCENT OF OUR DOUGH."
IF THAT'S FUNNY I'LL EAT YOUR HAT!
IS IT SUPPOSED TO BE FUNNY?

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK — By R. J. Scott

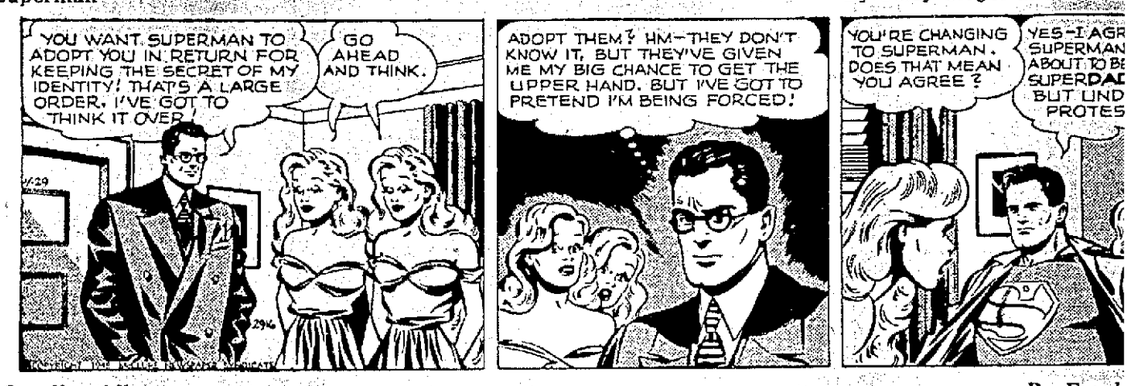
ALTHOUGH HIS 8-INCH FANGS WERE THE MOST DEADLY WEAPONS NATURE COULD PROVIDE, THE SABRE-TOOTHED TIGER OF 20,000 YEARS AGO PERISHED BECAUSE HE WAS NOT AS AGILE AS HIS COUSINS, THE PANTHERS AND JAGUARS.
SCRAPS
WHICH HAS A GREATER VITAMIN LOSS DURING COOKING — LEAFY OR ROOT VEGETABLES?
LEAFY VEGETABLES.
THE GUATEMALAN PIPER ALWAYS PLAYS THE SAME TUNE ON HIS INSTRUMENT, WHICH HAS A SHRILL NOTE, HIGH AS A BIRD'S VOICE.

Dick Tracy — By Chester



ALL RIGHT, LET'S GET MOVING, BOYS. IT'S AFTER 6:30. SUN'S BEEN UP AN HOUR AND A HALF.
YEAH.
WHAR'S YER CEMENT MIXER? DON'T YOU FIGURE ON POURING FOOTINGS TODAY?
LISTEN, BUSTER, WE'RE WORKING FOR DIET SMITH, AND HE DIDN'T SAY ANYTHING TO US ABOUT YOU SUPERINTENDING THE JOB.
YEAH? YOU'RE FIRED!
B.O.!
I DON'T KNOW WHE MY AUNT IS, MR. TRACY I DON'T WANT TO KNOW.

Superman — By Jerry Siegel and Joe S



YOU WANT SUPERMAN TO ADOPT YOU IN RETURN FOR KEEPING THE SECRET OF MY IDENTITY! THAT'S A LARGE ORDER. I'VE GOT TO THINK IT OVER!
GO AHEAD AND THINK.
ADOPT THEM? HM—THEY DON'T KNOW IT, BUT THEY'VE GIVEN ME MY BIG CHANCE TO GET THE UPPER HAND. BUT I'VE GOT TO PRETEND I'M BEING FORCED!
YOU'RE CHANGING TO SUPERMAN. DOES THAT MEAN YOU AGREE?
YES—I AGR SUPERMAN ABOUT TO BE SUPERDA BUT UND PROTES

Gasoline Alley — By Frank

I UNDERSTAND THAT WALLET & BOBBLE IS A WIDE-AWAKE, GOING CONCERN.
THAT IT IS! THEY ARE A PAIR OF GI's THAT STARTED FROM SCRATCH.
THEY'VE MADE QUITE A NAME FOR THEMSELVES AS A FIX-IT SHOP AND THEY'VE SET AN EXAMPLE FOR A LOT OF OTHERS AROUND THE COUNTRY.
THEN THEY AREN'T JUST LOCALLY KNOWN?
PRESCRIPTION
HECK, NO! GI's ARE COMING THROUGH HERE ALL THE TIME GETTING DOPE ON HOW TO START A BUSINESS.
THANKS. I THINK YOU HAVE HANDE ME AN IDEA.

Joe Palooka — By Ham

IT'S A DIME EXTRY T'BE PHOTTYGRAPHED WITH CLEMMY.
OH, THAT'S ALL RIGHT.
TEE HEE.
WOT WAS WE TALKIN' ABOUT, CLEMMY, B'FORE THEY HAD THEIR PITCHERS TOOK.
DANGED 'F I KIN R'MEMBER, MUST BE GITTIN' OLDER... HEH HEH.
HELLO, DOC.
H'LO, BUB, WANT'CHER PITCHER TOOK... ER ARE YEW WANTIN' A TOOTH PULLED?

Terry and the Pirates — By George W

YOUR STORY'S STRAIGHT, BINGHAM, VAN GOBLIN, A JAP PATROL DID COME HERE DURING THE WAR. IT'S LEADER SUSPECTED THERE'D BE SOMETHING OF VALUE ABOUT THE PLACE AND GOT BLASTED! GOLLY ABOUT IT...
...SO I HAD A SERVANT BRING ME A CRUDE MODERN FIGURE OF INFERIOR JADE FROM THE VILLAGE. I RECARVED IT, ADDED SOME GOLD WORK MADE FROM NATIVE JEWELRY AND DID IT QUITE CAREFULLY — THEN I ALLOWED THE JAP TO FRIGHTEN ME INTO LEADING HIM TO IT.
HOWEVER, SINCE THE THING IS VALUELESS, WHY DO YOU SAY IT'S UNLUCKY FOR ME THAT THE JAP SOLD IT TO YOU?
YOUR ME OF INNOCENCE IS NEARLY CO MR. BRONZ — HOWEVER, I DID RECOG THE PIECE YOU MUST HAVE USED AS A FOR IT!

The Gumps — By Gus E

WONDERFUL! OH, MIN!
I DON'T THINK SHE LIKES HIM— DID YOU NOTICE THE UGLY LOOK SHE GAVE HIS PHOTO?
WHO? MIN?
NO— MOTHER NATURE!
